U.S. Fleet Returns To Its Pacific Base At San Diego, Cal.

Squadrons totaling fifty-seven ships arrive at West Coast Port After Voyage From Atlantic, Where Fleet Was Based

Group of Planes Land on Island

Associated Press
San Diego, Cal., Nov. 9.—The U.S. fleet came here today. Thousands of persons were massed on the waterfront when the destroyer Decatur, a slim gray ghost in the early morning light, clipped past historic Point Loma in the van of fifty-six other ships of the fleet. Two hundred planes from the aircraft carriers Lexington and Saratoga roared overhead and swooped down to land on North Island.

Forty-seven destroyers and three light cruisers, the Detroit, Raleigh and Memphis, had entered port by 9:30 a.m. The cruisers Cincinnati, Omaha and Milwaukee, and several tenders and auxiliary craft, were scheduled to follow.
Approximately 15,000 men were aboard the ships arriving from the east coast. Shore leave was expected to be granted immediately. Officers and men were assured a royal welcome, with San Diego in holiday mood and attire. Streets were decorated as for July 4.

NOMINATION FOR MR. KING

Canadian Press
Prince Albert, Sask., Nov. 9.—Virtual nomination of Mr. H. W. L. Mackenzie King, Liberal leader and member of Parliament for Prince Albert, came at the organization convention of 357 Liberals of the local federal Liberal Association here yesterday.
By a unanimous standing vote, the delegates showed their desire to have Mr. King contest this riding in the forthcoming federal general election. Reports that Mr. King would not or did not desire to run again in Prince Albert were discounted by Hon. T. C. Davis, K.C., Attorney-General of Saskatchewan, and others. Official nomination will not come for some time.

Calgary Saves $350,000 As Exchange Tilt Ends

Massachusetts Trust Company Accepts Bond Payment in U.S. Gold, Settling Argument Which Started in March, 1933, When U.S. Dollar Above Canadian

Canadian Press
Calgary, Nov. 9.—Calgary's United States exchange drama, dating back to 1933, had ended today, the Malden Trust Company of Malden, Mass., accepting payment of its matured city of Calgary bonds in United States gold coins.

When the city of Calgary in March, 1933, refused to pay United States exchange on city debentures, the trust company started suits, involving a sum of $5,170.
By its refusal to make payment of exchange in United States funds on debentures valued at more than $1,000,000 at a time where there was an extremely high exchange rate, it was estimated to-day the city had avoided a loss of about $350,000.
The gold for the Malden payment was obtained from the Dominion government, at par, March 6, 1933, but was refused by the trust company, which demanded settlement on the basis of the exchange rate of 17 per cent. Since then the gold has lain in a bank safety deposit box here.
The Malden Trust Company solicitors here have another problem to solve—how to get the gold to their clients. Export of gold from Canada is prohibited.

JURORS SLEEP IN HOSPITAL

Canadian Press
Lethbridge, Alta., Nov. 9.—Something new in court history was established here Thursday night—the Supreme Court jury sitting in Lethbridge this week spent the night in a hospital. The jurors were not ill, but there was no accommodation for them in city hotels.

"It is just like the good old days," said hotel managers to-day. There is a freer, less conventional, more social, and the criminal classes all drawing their quota of out-of-town residents, and hotels are packed to the roofs.

LIBERALS ARE TO MEET IN OTTAWA

Vancouver, Nov. 9.—A meeting of the National Liberal Federation has been called for Ottawa on December 12. It is announced here to-day, Hon. Ian A. Mackenzie, M.P., and four or five other British Columbians will attend.

MINERS TURN DOWN OFFER

Proposal for Settlement Rejected at Cumberland Mass Meeting

Special To The Times
Cumberland, Nov. 9.—The strike situation here remains unchanged to-day, although the way is still open for the negotiation of a settlement.

No agreement was reached at the mass meeting held yesterday afternoon, the last offer of the Canadian Collieries to put the haulage crews on the basis of the Nanaimo haulage men, involving an eight-cent raise per day, being rejected.
The demand is for a 5 per cent increase for all men getting $4.22 a day and under. An effort was made to have a secret ballot taken on the issue, but this was turned down.

Some of the miners, anxious to resume work, expressed resentment over the attitude of the haulage crews after a secret ballot had decided by a majority of forty-two against the strike. In the opinion of these men it is not a strike, but a walkout.

CHARGE DISCRIMINATION
Nanaimo, Nov. 9.—A Cumberland miners' delegation held a meeting here last night and told a gathering of 200 the reason for the strike was discontent caused mainly by discrimination shown in payment of wages, some men receiving $6.50 while others were paid $4 for the same work. T. Donnelly, the principal speaker, said the high wage men had signed an agreement to work. The speaker stated the management would not meet the union committee, but the old grievance committee. He further stated the 5 per cent increase the strikers were asking for would only amount to a total of $38 per day.

W. Atkinson described under-surface grievances and quoted statements of a married surface worker receiving $2.75 per day, whose highest pay for two weeks was $16. Many were below that figure owing to slack time. The speaker said the island was being slowly and surely strangled, and the mines were closing continually. Atkinson said they were not there to make trouble among Nanaimo miners, but to gain the collection taken amounted to $10.
The meeting passed a resolution supporting the Cumberland miners morally and financially.

HALLOWEEN ECHO IN DAMAGE CLAIMS

Lone Vancouver Bandit Escapes

Vancouver, Nov. 9.—A lone bandit held up an attendant and a companion at a service station on Main Street here early to-day and escaped with $85.
N. Plumstead, the attendant, and H. E. Bomber, were threatened with a gun as the bandit removed the money from the cash register, then backed out of the station and disappeared.

Churchill Says He Is Old Man

Soon Will Be Sixty; Not Anxious to Be Minister Again

Canadian Press
Epping, Eng., Nov. 9.—Rt. Hon. Winston Churchill, called "quite a phenomenon" in Lord Riddell's "diary," published to-day, thinks he is finished with public life.
Mr. Churchill, noted independent in late years, told his constituents here yesterday evening: "I am getting very old, and I shall attain by sixtieth birthday in a few weeks."

He added: "Having held great offices of state for nearly a quarter of a century, I can assure you I shall be quite indifferent whether I hold office again or not."
Lord Riddell's diary recorded the remark: "Winston will be thirty-four years of age in a few days. He is a remarkable person, quite a phenomenon. When discussing him Lloyd George said laughingly that he never met anyone with such a passion for politics. Even at his wedding Winston began talking politics in the vestry." These notes were made nearly thirty years ago.
Winston Churchill's last office was the chancellorship of the Exchequer in the Baldwin cabinet from 1924 to 1929. He remained aloof from the ministry when the National Government was formed. Before that he had been a minister in one capacity or another from 1906 to 1922.

PLANS NEW ATLANTIC DIRIGIBLE SERVICE

Above is one of Dr. Hugo Eckener's latest pictures. It was taken in Washington a few days ago as he was leaving the White House after outlining to President Roosevelt plans for a dirigible service between the United States and Europe. He told the Federal Aviation Commission he was seeking a suitable base for the experimental trials. U.S. Post Office Department officials are considering arrangements for a mail contract if the service is established.

Post-election Gains In Stocks Seen At New York To-day

Heavy Buying in Late Trading on Exchange; Contest Among Democrats for House Speakership

Associated Press
New York, Nov. 9.—The post-election advance in stocks was resumed with new vigor to-day as heavy buying flowed into the market in the final half hour, boosting many issues $1 to $3 a share.

With hopes for business improvement growing in the financial district, demand for shares converged mainly on steel, building and allied groups, although the entire list in degree participated in the advance.
Industrial shares on the average sold at the highest level since July.

Washington, Nov. 9.—The first sign of internal rivalry in the Democratic Party since Tuesday's election victory raised it to its highest pinnacle appeared to-day. Certain Democrats north of the Mason-Dixon Line opened a determined drive to capture the speakership of the United States House of Representatives, for which (Turn to Page 2, Col. 2)

It is the first time a remote control broadcast from the Parliament Buildings has been held. Special interest is attached to Mr. Pattullo's address this evening because it marks the completion of the government's first year in office. In addition to reviewing the work of his administration in the last twelve months he is expected to give an idea of the government's future plans.

WHEAT CROP OF 1934 ESTIMATED

Canadian Press
Ottawa, Nov. 9.—Canada's 1934 wheat crop is estimated at 275,252,000 bushels, in the provisional estimate of Canadian grain production prepared by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics and released to-day. This is about 5,000,000 bushels in excess of the estimated wheat crop in 1933.
All other grains with the exception of beans provided larger yields this year than last year.

TWO MENTIONED FOR CABINET

Man Locked in By Sleepy Clerk

Vancouver, Nov. 9.—A Trarol found himself in a strange predicament early to-day. Shortly before midnight he entered a drug store and stepped into a telephone booth. When he had finished his conversation, he left the booth to find the store in darkness and the door locked.
After several anxious minutes, he managed to attract the attention of a passerby, who notified police. He was released. In closing the store, the clerk had failed to notice Trarol in the booth.

Sockeye Treaty To Be Discussed

B.C. Fisheries Commissioner to Meet Washington Authorities

Hope of gaining ratification by the United States of the Fraser River Sockeye Treaty was seen here to-day when the B.C. government accepted an invitation from Governor Clarence Martin of the State of Washington to discuss the matter informally in Olympia next week.
Hon. George S. Pearson, B.C. commissioner of fisheries, will meet the Washington representatives.
It is understood the invitation from Governor Martin came as a result of the passage by Washington voters on Tuesday of an initiative for abolition of salmon traps in the straits. This would indicate a desire on the part of that state to assist in the restoration of the Fraser River fishery, once the greatest sockeye ground in the world.
The treaty, ratified by the Canadian Parliament, was held up in the U.S. Congress because of opposition from Washington state. It proposes an international commission to regulate the entire sockeye fishery and would discontinue the stringent restrictions on the catches, or possible complete prohibition for a period of years.

NEW CITY HALL

Vancouver, Nov. 9.—Provision for transfer of old city hall to balance finance construction of a city hall in Vancouver on the Central School site will be made in a by-law to be submitted to the ratepayers at the city election of December 12, the city council decided to-day. ## Slot Machines Are Seized By Police

Calgary Cigar Stores Have Licenses Cancelled for Operating Gaming Devices

Calgary, Nov. 9.—A police war against gambling which has resulted in the seizure of many slot machines, spread to Calgary cigar stores to-day. The police commission has recommended the licenses of half a dozen of these establishments be cancelled "for cause."

It is the first time the commission has exercised power granted it early this year which provides for the cancellation of the license of any establishment without a specific explanation being required.
Police, it was stated to-day, have known the cigar stores were operated as gaming houses, but have never been able to secure the necessary evidence for conviction.

ASK ABOUT PAY

Canadian Press
Montreal, Nov. 9.—Bankers and businessmen, like the laborer, are worthy of their hire. Aldermen said to-day they would inquire at the next council meeting if the disbanded advisory finance committee selected by Mayor Camille Houde to steer the city out of its financial troubles have been paid for their four months' work. They were $1 a year men and are entitled to 33 cents each.

Streets Crowded as Sir Stephen Killick Goes in Procession to Courts of Justice to Receive Mandate

Music Provided By Eleven Bands

Canadian Press
London, Nov. 9.—Through packed streets, London's new lord mayor, Sir Stephen Henry Molyneux Killick, drove under a drizzling rain to-day in the city's ancient, ornate coach, drawn by six straining horses, to receive his formal mandate of office at the royal courts of justice.
Hundreds of thousands of persons turned out to pack the five and one-half miles of wet streets the Lord Mayor's procession traversed, and to listen to the eleven bands, one group of girl bagpipers and one unit of trumpeters, which filled the air with music.

For probably the first time in the long history of the traditional ceremony, the retiring Lord Mayor did not participate. Sir Charles Collett, who has been ill ever since his son was killed in an aviation accident last summer, was absent by order of his physician.
A little more than sixty years ago Sir Stephen, now seventy-three, was a messenger boy at five shillings a week in the financial district. He now represents in the municipal government.

To-day he rode with all the pomp and ceremony of "Merrie England" through the narrow, winding streets of the old city to the law courts, where before the Lord Chief Justice he made his declaration and became for the next year the ruler, owing allegiance to none in the land, save the king—over the 677 acres of the municipality proper.

IS 612th IN LINE

Sir Stephen became 612 in the line of mayors in a ceremony popularly known as the Lord Mayor's Show, which typifies the age-old English tradition of the boy who makes good. The gilded coach—"Old Gingerbread"—is a survival throughout the 300 years as an inspiration to the English lad who, reading of Dick Whittington and London streets of gold, dreams of fame and fortune.

HAS TRAVELED MUCH
For thirty-four years Sir Stephen Killick has been a member of the governing committee of the London Stock Exchange. He holds directorates in many important companies, has traveled widely, especially in North America, and is recognized as an authority on matters relating to Argentina.

The Lord Mayor's procession, in which forty-nine units participated, traveled five and one-half miles of city streets en route to the Law Courts and back to its starting place. The day—Nov. 9—ends with the Lord Mayor's banquet at the city's fifteenth century—Guildhall, where approximately 1,000 guests assembled and were received by the new executive.

B.C. STATUTES TO BE REVISED

Decennial Consolidation of Laws Will Be Handled by Department

Decennial revision of the Statutes of British Columbia will be started shortly, Attorney-General Sloan announced this morning.

In line with a recommendation of the select committee on printing at the last session it has been decided to go ahead with the work and arrangements have been completed for A. V. Finke, K.C., legislative counsel, to handle the task, with the staff of the Attorney-General's department.

It will take approximately two years to complete the work, which involves the consolidation, indexing and complete revision of the several thousand statutes now on the books.

In deciding to have the job done departmentally, Mr. Sloan explained, the practice adopted in 1924, year of the last revision, was followed. At that time it resulted in a saving of approximately 50 per cent in cost as compared to the previous revision of 1914 done by commissionaries, despite the fact more work was involved.

The present is an opportune time to make the consolidation, Mr. Sloan said, as the work of printing can be handled to advantage in the government printing office and give the full time employment to the staff.

PRELATE WITNESS AT INSULT TRIAL

Chicago, Nov. 9.—Cardinal George Mundelein appeared in the insult trial to-day to take the stand as a character witness for Harold L. Stuart, Chicago investment banker, indicted with Samuel Insull, utilities executive, and fifteen others. Tall and broad shouldered, the cardinal walked to the stand in Judge James H. Wilkinson's federal court as the afternoon session opened. It was his first appearance as a character witness in any trial, he said. The churchman said he had known Stuart "some seventeen years in both a business and social acquaintance."

Much Discussed Cat Hunted, But Not Found

Prince Edward Island Woman Has Not the Tortoise-shell Male Her Brother in Saskatchewan Wants to Show at Toronto Fair

Canadian Press
Cherry Valley, P. E. I., Nov. 9.—The tomat situation hereabouts grows a bit complicated.
To begin with, Mrs. J. P. Irving does not possess the cat that her brother, A. E. McKee of Chagrin, Sask., thinks she does—and which he has entered as a rare male tortoise-shell in Toronto's Royal Winter Fair.

That cat may be alive or dead for all she knows, she told a reporter who traveled from Charlottetown to this tiny village to-day. The brother, she said, last saw it ten years ago. She has not seen it for a long time.

The tom that Mr. McKee believes to be a $1,000 tortoise-shell was reared by her mother, Mrs. Irving said, on the old homestead at Waterford, P.E.I. Possibly it is there yet, Mrs. Irving cannot say.

But she has another tomat, much like the one Mr. McKee insists is a valuable rarity, and approaching in color the black, red and cream of the tortoise hybrid. Its fur is black, mingled with a brown and grey combination that blends into a light saige. Parallel stripes of this mixture run the length of the cat's back; its sides are marked irregularly, and the legs and tail are ringed. There is a white triangular patch beneath the cat's chin.

Much Discussed Cat Hunted; Not Found

Whether it is a tortoise-shell Mrs. Irving does not know. She has had the cat for a year, considering him just an ordinary domestic pet. She does not know his age, and his antecedents are a mystery to her.

VALUABLE TEN YEARS AGO

Of one thing Mrs. Irving is certain though. The cat at her home is not the one her brother was planning to enter in the Toronto show. He has never seen it, she declared. As for the other one, she thinks it is possible it may be a tortoise-shell. She recalls that when Mr. McKee saw it about ten years ago, he declared it was a rarity and valuable. Since then she has given the cat little thought.

Cat breeders claim tortoise-shell cats are always female, never male. The governing council of the Cat Fanciers of Great Britain has a standing offer of $100 to the person who can breed a male tortoise-shell. Tortoise-shell are a cross between red and black and cream. They are colored black, red and cream. If white enters into the scheme it is not a genuine tortoise-shell.

its chief, who visited Canada a few months ago with the French ambassador to the Jacques Cartier celebrations. The new ministry held its first meeting at the Elysée palace this afternoon. Next Tuesday it will make its first appearance before the Chamber of Deputies.

CABINET'S PROGRAMME

The government's five-fold programme may be roughly summarized as follows: Continuation of the policy of political and economic reconstruction, a fight against poverty and unemployment, economy, rapid adoption of the budget and strengthening the authority of the state.

The new premier thus generally continues the programme of M. Doumergue, but with this distinction: Doumergue put constitutional reform in the foreground. He wanted the right to advise dissolution of the Senate for previous approval. This was the programme that brought down the government.

TWO BANKS IN U.S. ROBBED

Thugs Take $21,000 in Nebraska; Bandits Take $10,000 in New Jersey

Associated Press
Norfolk, Neb., Nov. 9.—Three gunmen robbed the De Lay National Bank here of $21,000 this morning and escaped. They held four persons captive most of the night, lined up seven bank employees as they awaited for a time lock to open the vault and shopped a bank official.

Associated Press
Cedar Grove, N. J., Nov. 9. (Associated Press)—Six holdup men, armed with sub-machine guns and using tear gas to cover their escape, to-day looted the First National Bank here of approximately $10,000. Soon after the bank had opened in this little suburban community the bandit gang struck. At gunpoint, Frank DeLancey, a teller, was forced to open the vault, while Gustave Meir, the cashier, another employee and three depositors were herded into a washroom and locked up. Meanwhile the bandits working in the vault hastily scooped up all the available currency and silver, and then the gang beat its retreat, throwing the tear gas bombs which filled the little bank with choking fumes.

MUNCH HEARS ADOLF HITLER

Nazi Chief Visits Scene of Arrest Eleven Years Ago; Cheered by Throngs

Associated Press
Munich, Germany, Nov. 9.—Eleven years ago to-day Adolf Hitler, little known leader of a new party, was jailed and sixteen of his followers slain, but to-day Munch acclaimed him and his "beer cellar putch."

Hitler spoke from the same platform on which he appealed to followers to join the abortive "putch." He commended thousands of cheering followers, "in case fate ever should have anything similar in store for us," to memorize this credo: "We are always determined to act, always ready to die, but never willing to capitulate."

Associated Press
Nazi Germany of to-day was the fruit of the "putch" of eleven years ago, Der Fuehrer asserted. "What you see about you was born behind the Landsberg prison walls during my thirteen months of confinement there," he said.

Munich, Hitler's stronghold, decorated profusely the graves of the sixteen early associates who were killed in the 1923 street demonstration. Hitler, himself narrowly escaped death. National exercises included the enrolment of "Hitler girls," aged twenty-one, into the Nazi party ranks as full members.

BIG SWINDLE STIRS PARIS

Several Ex-officials of Government on Boards of Companies Involved

Paris, Nov. 9.—France to-day was stirred by an alleged financial swindle about the Stavisky case, involving 21,000,000 francs. Charges of abuse of confidence were filed yesterday against Charles Levy and his cousin, Joseph Levy, who floated several hundred million francs worth of bonds, through several large banks, for a network of financial institutions on whose boards are several former high government officials.

Police charged the government paid 1,500,000 francs war damages to some of the Levy companies, to be repaid to manufacturers whose plants were damaged by Germans. The manufacturers, it was said, were unable to collect.

Charles Levy was also charged with using company funds to liquidate a personal debt of 6,000,000 francs. The two men were said to have disappeared.

REICH CHURCH BATTLE BITTER

Evangelical Church in Germany Repudiates Present Administration

Associated Press
Berlin, Nov. 9.—Opposition members of the Evangelical church opened a campaign for new recruits to-day, renewing their long fight against two Reichsbishops Ludwig Mueller and the pagan faith movement. A manifesto issued following a great mass meeting here yesterday evening said: "We repudiate the present church administration."

It charged "peace promises" of Mueller after Dr. Ernest Jaeger, Nazi commissioner of Protestant churches in Prussia had resigned under opposition fire. "Confused the situation," it is not enough for one member of the administration to resign. The whole system of falsehood, heresy and subterfuge must be abolished," declared the oppositionists.

Drug Store at Nanaimo Robbed

Special to The Times
Nanaimo, Nov. 9.—The Van Houten drug store, Commercial Street, was broken into last night and $40 cash, a pocket set worth $17.50 and cigarettes valued at $25, stolen. The robbery was discovered by Constable Burrell at 4.15 a.m. It was the work of experts, police believe, entry being made through the basement and by forcing a trapdoor into the store.

SAYS ORIENT FACES CRISIS

J. S. Woodsworth Stresses Need for Constructive Policy to Maintain Peace

Canadian Press
Vancouver, Nov. 9.—The international situation in the Far East is critical, for Japan to believe in her imperialist aims, friction must develop, and out of some little incident war will develop, J. S. Woodsworth, M.P., leader of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation, declared in addressing a public meeting here.

He is almost inclined to think that perhaps the danger of war is a little less than it was six months ago, but if we get by without war it will be a close squeeze," he said. "Peace cannot be maintained only by constructive policy, he stated, and the first step in a peace policy must be to 'know your neighbors.' For business reasons, too, Canada should take greater interest in Japan and China, he said in urging his hearers to study the Far Eastern situation. "I have not reason to believe Japan is not going to permit that condition to continue very much longer."

Associated Press
Tokyo, Nov. 9.—The street car system in Tokyo makes that of Vancouver or Winnipeg look like a child's toy. "It is putting enormous sums into her military equipment and is ready for the test of strength," he said. "It is a test of diplomatic strength, and if that fails, is prepared to make a physical test on the battlefield."

He claimed Canadian-born Chinese and Japanese who knew no other land than Canada should be given the vote. Until employment problems were solved, the C.C.F. was opposed to further immigration from England or China; but the problem of the Orientals already in the country could be solved by raising their standard of living to that of Canadians or they could be isolated in the institutions of Canada. "Other things," he added, "are admitting Orientals to membership to eliminate their competition on a low wage basis, he added.

New York, Nov. 9.—Still smouldering ruins remained to be searched to-day for traces of four persons believed to have lost their lives in the $2,000,000 fire which yesterday evening destroyed the giant Chesapeake and Ohio Railway grain elevator here.

Starting with a dull internal explosion somewhere near the top of the building just before closing time yesterday afternoon, the flame spread with such rapidity that only four of its eight occupants were able to escape, and two of them suffered injuries.

The firemen, realizing it was useless to attempt to put out the fire within the elevator, directed their efforts toward preventing a spread of the flames.

NEW HUNGARY MINE STRIKE

Second Walkout at Mine Where Hunger Strike Took Place Soon Settled

Associated Press
Pecs, Hungary, Nov. 9.—After brief negotiations, a fresh strike by coal miners here was settled to-day. The miners agreed to go back to work.

Several hundred of these men remained underground for more than 100 hours recently. Two hundred and eighty miners refused to enter the pits today unless given increased wages for October, which the mine owners promised when the previous strike was settled. Hungarian police were called on duty and it was at least feared the walkout movement would spread.

Kingsford-Smith, in California, Expects to Fly Back to Australia via London

Associated Press
Los Angeles, Nov. 9.—A 17,000-mile flight from Los Angeles to Australia by way of London is the next goal of Sir Charles Kingsford-Smith, who with Capt. P. G. Taylor, last Sunday completed the first Australia-to-United States flight. "I would much prefer to make my way by boat in a leisurely manner," said Sir Charles to-day, "but I think plans have just about materialized for me to fly from Los Angeles to New York, from there to London and from London eastward to Australia." The noted aviator made the announcement of his projected flight shortly after an attachment against his plane had been lifted. Thomas Cation, a promoter who in 1928 had undertaken to find financial backing for Sir Charles for a flight to Honolulu from California, filed the attachment against the plane, contending the aviator owed him $1,750 for "services." Arrangements were made for an early trial of Cation's suit against Sir Charles. The departure of the aviator will depend on the disposition of the suit.

ARMS MOTION IS DEFEATED

Laborites in British Commons Urged Private Plants Be Ended

London, Nov. 9.—A labor motion for abolition of private manufacture and trade in armaments was defeated in the House of Commons yesterday evening. The vote was 270 to 88.

Sir John Simon, Foreign Secretary, made it clear the British Government would not permit an inquiry after the fashion of the recent United States Senate committee's investigation into armaments.

Liberal speakers yesterday urged such an inquiry, but Sir John said methods used in the United States would not concern themselves with "private practice." Labor members apparently abandoned demands made several weeks ago for the inquiry.

The debate centered around the Labor resolution demanding abolition of the private manufacture and trade in armaments, and a provision for state production of such armaments as were considered necessary.

Associated Press
New York, Nov. 9.—Calgary's municipal railway system to-day was awarded the Anthony M. Brady Safety Medal for its record during the last year. The company reported no fatalities.

Winner for the third time, the system is thus automatically eliminated from next year's competition. These awards began more than twenty years ago as the result of a competition inaugurated by Nicholas P. Brady in memory of his father, Electric railway systems in Canada and the United States are allowed to compete.

Calgary won in the class of cities under 300,000. In the category of larger cities, the Montreal Tramways Company won honorable mention. The awards were distributed at a luncheon here to-day, and K. B. Thornton, general manager of the Montreal Tramways Company, received the award on behalf of his company and the Calgary Municipal Railway.

Escaped Convicts Are Given Aid

Ten Men From Devil's Island Colony Voyaging Through West Indies

Associated Press
Aruba, D.W.I., Nov. 9.—Ten escaped prisoners from the Devil's Island colony of Dutch Guiana sailed to sea to-day from San Nicolas Bay, through the generosity of the English and United States colonies.

They were provided with a twenty-five-foot sailboat equipped with an auxiliary gasoline motor and supply of gasoline sufficient for 400 miles travel by the use of motor alone.

Furthermore, they were given a month's provisions, clothes, tobacco and sufficient money to equip them toward a new start in life.

The escaped convicts are headed by Jean Duverney. They fled the penal colony in the summer of 1933 in a canoe in which they spent thirty-two days at sea before they were picked up by a British freighter.

The Canadian dollar finished unchanged at 23 1/2 per cent premium. Sterling closed 1/2 of a cent lower at $1.93 1/2.

Minister's Farewell Widely Discussed

Ottawa, Nov. 9.—A farewell to the "brotherhood of returned men" by Minister of Pensions Murray and MacLaren, in a Poppy Day message was interpreted here to-day as supporting the rumor of his early retirement from the cabinet.

At this season of coming anniversaries and at the end of another year as Minister of Pensions and National Health, may I take the opportunity of saying to the brotherhood of returned men "fare thee well, vale et benedictio," the minister concluded his message yesterday evening.

Dr. MacLaren has been mentioned speculatively as the probable choice for Lieutenant-Governor of New Brunswick.

Spoken to, Dr. MacLaren declined to make any statement on the matter. He said merely that in his message he was saying good-bye at the close of another year.

OLDEST BIBLE STATED FOUND

Manuscript Discovered in Cairo Dates From Second Century; Now in Vienna

Associated Press
Vienna, Nov. 9.—The discovery of a Bible of duty manuscripts described as the "world's oldest Bible" was announced yesterday by Hans Gerstinger, chief of the manuscript section of the Austrian National Library.

The laboriously written pages, he said, dated to the second century. He added that several ancient Greek biblical manuscripts, hitherto believed lost, were found.

The discovery was made in a Cairo bookshop by Herman Junker, director of the German Archaeological Institute there, but its importance was not appreciated until the manuscripts were studied here.

The sheets do not include the entire Bible, but the Gospel of Matthew and Paul's Epistles are complete, and there are fragments of the old Testament.

CORRESPONDENT HELD IN MADRID

Unfair Representation of October Riots Given as Cause of Arrests

Associated Press
Madrid, Nov. 9.—The Spanish government yesterday caused the arrest of Reginald Calvert, the regular Madrid correspondent of The Christian Science Monitor, Reuters news agency and the London Daily Telegraph, holding him incommunicado without specifying the charges against him.

Sir George Graham, the British ambassador, on learning of Calvert's arrest, immediately took steps to demand his release.

Extra-officially it was reported that Calvert had written a number of articles concerning the October rebellion which the government considered untrue and exaggerated.

LAKE BASIN IN FLORIDA DRAINED

Large Area Left Dry; Many Fish Die; Many Are Saved

Associated Press
Tallahassee, Fla., Nov. 9.—Nature yesterday completed one of her tricks, and Lake Immokalee, which at normal level covers an area of approximately twenty square miles, went dry.
Fish by the thousands were left to die in the sun, while other thousands were captured by hand or with garden rakes in the tiny pools that remained as the lake drained out through a "sink hole."
Owners of plantations bordering the lake saved thousands of bass and bream by lifting them out of the shallow pools with nets and transferring them in tanks to other lakes.
The big lake started draining out about three weeks ago. At first the fall of the water was gradual. Ten days ago the water had drained down to what is called the basin—an area as large as ten city blocks. Then it went still lower, and early yesterday the "bottom fell out."

It is no new thing for big lakes in this area to go dry as suddenly as did Lake Immokalee. A few years ago Lake Jackson drained out with a roar, and its bottom was cultivated for one crop year. Later it partly filled up again.
When the lakes refill, curiously enough, the water rises through the same sink holes by which it drained out, and fish of various sizes return with it.

CUBAN EX-SENATOR SOON OUT OF JAIL

Havana, Nov. 9.—Carlos Machado, brother of the former president of Cuba, expects to be released from Cabana prison soon, but he is unaware of a rude shock which awaits the day of his liberation.
For weeks Machado, former senator, has been giving instructions to servants to prepare his many properties for his homecoming. His directions are noted carefully and servants leave as if to do his bidding.

But Machado is virtually without properties. He has not been told that many of his buildings were destroyed by fire and that his once famous herds of cattle no longer roam over his ranges in Santa Clara and Oriente provinces.
Many of his possessions were destroyed by revolutionists soon after President Machado fell from power.

but friends did not wish to depress the prisoner with stories of his losses.
The former senator a few days ago was cleared of a charge of attempted murder. He will be released shortly if no other accusations are found to be pending.

Soviet Press Leader Speaks

J. Doletzky, Manager of Tass, Guest at Dinner in New York

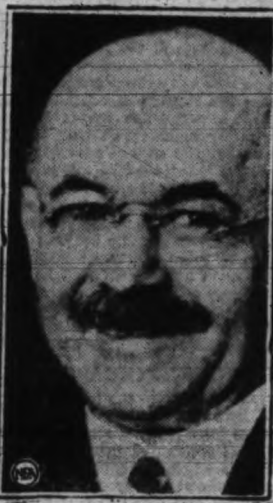

New York, Nov. 9.—A primary task of the press was described yesterday evening by Jacob Doletzky, managing director of the telegraph agency of the Union of Socialist Soviet Republics (Tass), as the promotion of international understanding for the safeguarding of world peace.
Mr. Doletzky spoke at a dinner in his honor given by Kent Cooper, general manager of the Associated Press.
Referring to the recognition of the Soviet Government by the United States and the long association of the Tass agency with the Associated Press, Mr. Doletzky said:

"A great task has been accomplished. More remains to be done. Previously our task was to help people to open their eyes to the mere existence of things as they are. Now comes an opportunity to do more, to visualize the common aims and the common interests of the two greatest nations of the world."
"Personal diplomatic relations have been established. No basic differences exist between our peoples in any part of the world."

TO PROMOTE UNDERSTANDING
"The task of the press, the work of newspapers, is to promote communication and cultural understanding, guided by the best ideals of humanity, and especially in the essential cause of safeguarding world peace."

"In this spirit we have always acted."
Among those present were: Jesse Jones, chairman of Reconstruction Finance Corporation of the United States; W. R. Hearst, J. F. B. Livesey, general manager of the Canadian Press; Will Hays, Frank B. Noyes, A. Neymann, charge d'affaires of the embassy of the U.S.S.R. at Washington; David Sarnoff, Byron Price, Carl Akerman, Henry I. Harriman, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States; Thomas W. Lamont, Leonid M. Tolokonnik, consul-general of the U.S.S.R. in the United States; and Marvin H. # You Can Depend on the Man Who Advertises

NINE times out of ten you will find that the man who advertises is the man who most willingly returns your money if you are not satisfied.

He has too much at stake to risk losing your trade or your confidence. You can depend on him.

He is not in business for to-day or to-morrow only — but for next year and ten years from next year. He knows the value of good-will.

You get better merchandise at a fairer price than he could ever hope to sell it if he did not have the larger volume of business that comes from legitimate advertising and goods that bear out the promise of the printed word.

Don't miss the advertisements. This very day they call your attention to values that to-morrow you will be sorry you overlooked.

POPPY DAY

THE GOVERNOR-GENERAL, PRIME MINISTER BENNETT, and other leading Canadians have sent out messages pleading for the success of Poppy Day, which will be celebrated to-morrow, and there will be taggers at the street corners of Victoria. The funds collected by the sale of the red emblem of "Flanders Field" will be used to help those who suffered as a result of the World War. We can not do better than to reproduce here the message which has just been given out by the Governor-General on the subject:

"On Remembrance Day," says His Excellency, "we are, perhaps, inclined to think only of those who laid down their lives. But there are others, both men and women, whose lot is, perhaps, even harder; they suffer still to-day; men who returned to their homes bereft of the means to earn their livelihood, maimed or physically broken; women and children left destitute. What more fitting tribute to the fallen can we pay than to help in the care of these, their comrades and dependents?"

"Throughout Canada, disabled ex-service men, otherwise hunting for employment, have been working in the manufacture of Vetrac poppies and wreaths, which are now being sold in every city, town and village throughout the Dominion. It is on your generosity in the purchase of these that the Canadian Legion depends for the furtherance of its great work."

"It is with the utmost confidence that I ask each one of you to give the fullest possible measure of help to a cause so richly deserving, and so sorely in need of your staunchest support."

Prime Minister Bennett says: "Sixteen years ago brought to an end a world war such as mankind had never before known. In four years of ceaseless warfare, Canada created and maintained a valiant citizen army. Alas, many, all too many, returned no more, and to those who do solemn honor on Remembrance Day. Others there were who, when peace at last was restored to a war-weary world, returned to their homes unable to pursue their normal vocations; men who had given themselves up completely to the cause that they found themselves unfitted for the civil life. To them, as well as to the immortal dead, we owe a debt we can not repay, a debt which is recalled and made vivid by Poppy Day."

THE TARIFF SUBSIDY

HOW MANY TAXPAYERS IN CANADA realize what the tariff costs the people, especially the people of the western provinces? We get this from an enlightening article from Mr. R. J. Deachman, a well-known Canadian economist, who sets out the following table which speaks for itself:

Cost of Canadian Tariff by Provinces, 1931
	Enhancement of Prices Due to Tariff	Per Capita Tariff Costs
P.E.I.	$ 2,042,140	$29.20
Nova Scotia	15,784,124	30.78
New Brunswick	12,801,077	31.58
Quebec	101,171,562	35.30
Ontario	168,732,723	40.17
Manitoba	29,185,740	41.69
Saskatchewan	29,228,285	31.71
Alberta	27,909,396	38.15
British Columbia	37,787,247	54.36

The next problem is to find just how this enhancement of price due to tariff is distributed to consumers throughout the country. The most accurate index is taken to be the figures compiled by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics showing retail sales in various Canadian provinces. By using percentage figures showing the relative consumption of each province, Professor Rogers, whom we quoted in these columns yesterday, distributes the total enhancement of prices in Canada over world levels ($425,000,000) and his results are as follows:

Benefits From Canadian Tariff by Provinces, 1931
	Total Tariff Subsidy	Subsidy Per Capita
P.E.I.	$ 467,992	$ 5.32
Nova Scotia	9,687,403	19.50
New Brunswick	8,126,059	19.91
Quebec	132,867,447	46.23
Ontario	220,729,484	64.32
Manitoba	39,816,971	28.44
Saskatchewan	3,275,950	3.55
Alberta	8,211,148	11.22
British Columbia	22,378,571	32.03

The economic condition of Canada, of course, as reflected by her trade returns, now, happily, improving, gives us a trade position equal to that of twenty years ago, when our population was about three millions less than it is at the present time.

A LONG WAY TO GO

AS MR. J. W. COLLINS, NEW ZEALAND trade commissioner in Canada, very properly says, Canada and the Dominion which he represents are doing more business with one another than they were doing a year or so ago, but the fact remains that it is only about one-sixth of the value of what it was before the Bennett government disturbed the agreement which was operating during the regime of Mr. Mackenzie King.

Mr. Collins gives warm praise to the Ottawa treaties; he says they are gradually restoring a more even balance of trade between the Dominions. Before they were entered into, however, there was a much more liberal exchange of goods between the various parts of the Britannic Commonwealth.

Canada's empire trade in 1931, for example, was worth $469,000,000. For the twelve months ending last July it was worth $462,000,000! Hard-and-fast agreements with respect to trade do not work out anything like as well as if there were no restrictions. Fundamental economic laws can not be circumvented by artificial formulas.

THE ARMS RACKET

ARTICLE EIGHT OF THE COVENANT of the League of Nations requires that "the members of this League agree that the manufacture by private enterprise of munitions and implements of war is open to grave objections."

This indictment was supported by the Temporary Mixed Commission, set up by the League to investigate the matter. That Commission reported to the 1921 Assembly "that armament firms had been active in fomenting war scares, bribing government officials, issuing false reports concerning military programmes to stimulate armament expenditure, controlling newspapers to influence public opinion in their own and foreign countries, organizing international rings to play off one country against another, accentuating the race in armaments and increasing their price."

In March last year, after the Disarmament Conference had been in session for a little more than twelve months, Mr. Arthur Henderson, the chairman, was waited on by a delegation representative of veterans who had fought on both sides in the Great War, to whom he said: "You suggest, and rightly so in my opinion, the elimination of private profit from the preparation for war. I believe with you in thinking that disarmament can only be made effective when the motive of profit derived from preparation for war has been entirely wiped out."

M. Morel, vice-president of the International Conference of Associations of Ex-Servicemen and War Victims, said on that same occasion: "We do not wish that odious and contemptible egoism should again be able to build up upon misery, upon ruin and death, fortunes compounded of mud and blood, and that is why we ask for the abolition of the private manufacture of and trade in arms."

The view of the Commission of the League of Nations, the statement of Mr. Arthur Henderson, and that of M. Morel are strangely in conflict with the government's decision in the British House of Commons yesterday which voted down a motion for the abolition of private manufacture and trade in armaments by 279 to sixty-eight!

"JIMMY" LEIGHTON

SEVENTY-ONE YEARS AGO YESTER- day there arrived in Victoria, one James Bole Leighton, a native of Yarmouth, on the River Spey, Scotland. He now lives at Savona, B.C., and celebrated his eighty-third birthday yesterday.

"Jimmy" Leighton, as he is affectionately known all through the Cariboo country, has been store clerk, express agent, telegraph operator, hostler, race horse man, stage line manager, rancher, historian, and politician.

In recent years he has been a prolific contributor to British Columbia and Canadian newspapers and periodicals. Few know the history of the Cariboo country better than "Jimmy" Leighton; and few have preached the gospel of Canadianism more fervently than he.

Mr. Leighton on several occasions has contributed to the columns of The Times, and he is one whose ripe experience of life in British Columbia has enabled him to picture verbally the glamour of the early days of the province. This newspaper extends to him many happy returns of November eight.

A dispatch from Ottawa tells us that Premier Bennett now is ready to render first aid to the injured by virtue of the fact that "despite his heavy duties," he "took the full course and passed an examination before his fellow members of Parliament from Calgary, Dr. G. D. Stanley." The "Prime Minister has in his possession a graduate diploma in first aid from the St. John Ambulance Association. As the head of the government at Ottawa is qualified to deal with any minor injuries to the human frame it is pertinent to inquire about his ability to deal with the body politic—when he runs the risk of political injuries.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

NO RESUMPTION ON OLD BASIS
 The Glasgow Herald

The British Government has never repudiated its obligations; it has always declared its willingness to negotiate a final settlement on reasonable terms. But it cannot contemplate the resumption of armaments on the old basis. "It is clear that the American Government and American opinion recognise the fact that talk of ingenious devices for overcoming the difficulties of transfer are so much beating the air."

SPOILS SYSTEM
 The Milwaukee Journal

Several European countries give special training to their candidates for permanent government service. The result is a much higher type of personnel. We still put our workers largely by political pull, for all our talk about civil service. Friendship for a congressman or a bureaucratic head counts a good deal more than training. And of course we get the "shirt-sleeve" variety.

ANSWERED
 Steele in Christian Science Monitor

Manchester, N.H., hears Chief Justice William E. Sawyer recite famous court history. An attorney asked an elderly male witness if the woman in the case was talkative. "More than a trifle garrulous," Question repeated. "Somewhat redundant," was the reply. "Was she talkative?" "Not a little pleonastic," witness admitted. At last the outraged lawyer shouted, "Six times I've asked you to say whether she was talkative!" "And six times I've answered she was," softly witness replied. Ever since Daniel Webster New Hampshire has had that bright way with words.

FREEDOM OF TEACHING
 The Philadelphia Inquirer

In declining to accept from Dr. Hanfstaengl, graduate of Harvard and a close associate of Hitler, the $1,000 scholarship giving the holder a year of study and travel in Germany, the president and fellows of the university administer a sharp rebuke to policies that have injured German universities "through measures which have struck at principles we believe to be fundamental to universities throughout the world." In other words, Harvard takes a stand in behalf of freedom of teaching, denied by the present German government.

A THOUGHT

For a bishop must be blameless as the steward of God; not self-willed, not soon angry; not given to wine, no striker, not given to filthy lucre.—Titus 1:7.

While our hearts are pure, our lives are happy and our peace is sure.—William Winter.

Loose Ends

What the wild waves are saying on a quiet evening—the present rush of culture and literature—the disillusionment of Mrs. Boggis—and Mrs. Noggins's views on mysticism.

CULTURE

THOSE WHO THINK that culture is dead in the world should look towards Hollywood these days. Charles Dickens is the most popular author down there just now. They are turning three of his great books into celluloid, and only recently they brought Robert Browning to life, even if the inoffensive ham, Frederic March, made him look and talk approximately like the daring young man of the dying swans. It is all very gratifying and shows you the rising level of public taste.

The public will see Dickens on the screen, and perhaps that is better than nothing. But it won't read Dickens in the original. It will spend two hours watching the glittering flashes that Hollywood extracts from his novels, but it won't spend two weeks wading through one of them. It will go home from the theatre imagining that it has seen Dickens, but it will only have seen the bare skeleton of his work dressed up to look exciting.

Hollywood's productive capacity is so enormous that it will soon cover the whole field of English literature, and a whole generation will know it only in a fermented, distorted and belated state, pointed up like a nussy. That is the trouble with everything nowadays. It is too easy to acquire. You don't have to work for it any more. I mean, is it fair, when you and I have waded through the barren wastes of Copperfield and Dombey and "Great Expectations" to the light? When we have wrestled in sweat and tears with the black mysteries of "Borlengo" and "The Ring and the Book"—is it fair, I ask, that it should all be served up on a platter to the new generations for thirty-five cents?

It doesn't matter so much that the ordinary man can have machines, luxuries and conveniences known in the past only to kings and emperors, but nowadays he can have all the best thoughts of the race handed to him, sugar-coated, dished up with soft music and scenery and handsome men like Frederic March and agreeable trimmings like Norma Shearer. Or rather he imagines they are the best thoughts of the race and goes home satisfied that he knows about Dickens and Browning. He will go through life thinking he knows about them. Actually he will know nothing of them whatever. He can only know them by years of weary toil, by long digging in barren soil until he finds the treasures buried deep down, and he will be surprised to discover that they don't resemble the celluloid version in the least.

CHARMING COMPANION

DELIGHTFUL THING, the radio, isn't it? And such charming people talking on it all evening, the kind of people you would like to ask into your home. Someone was turning the dial of my radio in every direction just now to see if he could locate some nice music, but every where a charming fellow was talking as hard as he could. As the dial turned I could catch only a word or two from each station. As a matter of historical record, so to speak, I noted down carefully the exact words that poured through the ether. They were precisely as follows:

"Acid condition—"
 "Health tablet—"
 "Mr. Roosevelt said—"
 "White skin—"
 "Bad breath—"
 "Shoes that are stylish—"
 "Exquisite charm—"
 "No coffee—"
 "For sore backs—"
 "See your dentist at least—"
 "Gargle night and morning—"
 "Corn sufferers—"
 "The common cold—"
 We turned off the radio then. Or course we understood, but a stranger who had never listened to the wild radio waves would imagine that this content was inhabited by a race of invalids and broken-down idiots of the milder sort.

Still, it might be worse. Over in England I observe that the British Broadcasting Company has just issued a list of official pronouncements, and it includes such simple little words as Anemosecope, Clinometer, Orbital, Pyroform, Blahbl, Trochee, Capuchin, Doozy, Salicylate, Scaramouch and Siderite. How would you like an avalanche like that to come pouring into your house on a quiet evening? Perhaps you'd be glad to go back to acid conditions, health tablets, corns, common colds and mouth wash.

WOMEN
I SEEN IN THIS PAPER the other night when our neighbor, Mrs. Boggis, sent over some garbage for the chickens wrapped up in it, where a feller was writin' about fortune tellers. (It was Mrs. Noggins speaking, of course). He says the women in Victoria are all gone silly over fortune tellers. I ain't surprised at all, I know what the girls are like nowadays, because my boy—'s a plumber and plumbers get around a good deal and see a lot of women in their homes—I always tell my boy that bet'n a plumber is kind of risky if a man ain't steady like my boy.

"Bless you, the girls don't want to stay 'ome no more. They got to run out and see a fortune teller, and if 'e's good-looking and will read their palms and 'old 'their 'ands and squeeze 'em a bit, that makes it all the better. Yea, no sooner does a gal get a 'usband these days than she's out getting 'er fortune read to see if she's goin' to get another one. Excitement! That's the trouble with the girls now."

"They all wants excitement because they seen it in the movies. They go to one of them talky-talky shows and see a lot of girls livin' in palaces and yachie and all that and 'andome young fellers kissin' and 'uggin' 'em, and then they expect to live like that, too. They don't want 'usbands any more, the girls don't nowadays. They want lovers. That's all right in the movie pictures where a man gets paid fer lookin' 'andome and makin' 'eyes at gals, but you got to remember when a man 'as worked 'ard all day 'earnin' a livin' he likes to come 'ome at night and sit by the fire and read the paper. He don't want to look 'andome and jump over balconies and make eyes at nobody."

"It used to be in my time that a gal was satisfied when she 'ad a 'ome and babies of 'er own. Now she'd rather 'ave a new car than a new bat; any day. So she rushes out to one of them fortune tellers 'opin' 'e'll tell 'er she's goin' to have a new car or a new 'usband or a new dress. Take that young Mrs. Boggis next door to me. The fortune teller is always tellin' 'er she's goin' to 'ave a new car or a new dress and she goes back again, fer more. The fortune teller is cute that way. He don't never tell 'er she's goin' to 'ave a new baby, or she'd never be back to 'im again. They just tell 'em what they like to 'ave."

"I said to Mrs. Boggis, I said, 'I can tell yer fortune without no charge,' I said, 'You're goin' to cook three meals a day for the next thirty years, and wash the dishes three times a day and go to bed and get up in the mornin' and then yer goin' to die and that's all there is to it,' I said. 'Excitement,' I said. 'All the excitement you'll get is when the old man gets drunk and beats you up,' I said. 'And you don't need any fortune teller readin' yer palm to tell you that,' I said. 'Why, when yer my age, you'll 'ave worked all the lines right off yer palm till nobody can read it at all. That's the way it is,' I said, 'not like in the movies.'"

SEAMEN'S UNION

To the Editor:—Would you please give this item space in your paper. A series of conferences, the final one of the series, was held at the Victoria Hotel, Vancouver, this was the result of three months' activities on the part of the Longshoremen and Water Transport Workers of Canada, the rank and file of the three seamen's organizations and the unorganized seamen.

Attended by over seventy delegates with visitors from the Canadian Association of Marine Engineers, the conference went on record to form a new organization to be known as the Seafarers' Industrial Union, affiliated to the I.W.O.C., on the basis of the overwhelming support shown for such a move by the ballot conducted in the month of October. An executive committee of twenty-one was elected pro tem for the next three months, and to make arrangements for the calling of the first annual convention on the first Sunday in February, 1935.

ARMISTICE DAY

To the Editor:—With the approach of Armistice Day we celebrate the cessation of hostilities of the World War, which took its dreadful toll of 30,000,000 lives and approximately 64,000,000 property, wealth, destroyed, and contributing nothing to the social advancement of mankind, but on the contrary, leaving behind a frightful world-wide heritage of debt, with attendant penury and want, millions maimed and mutilated and to some extent the legacy of a spirit

DECADES OF PROGRESS 1915-1924

War and Aftermath

No doubt many economic troubles today are traceable directly to the War which ended sixteen years ago. Nevertheless, during the War, and for two years after the War, freedom from serious economic strain was the rule. Three big crops during this period sold at high prices and War loans were readily subscribed, but help was scarce, both on the farm and in the industries. Financial institutions were under a similar handicap.

The Bank staff of 1914 numbered 985. During the War enlistments from the staff reached the total of 518, the places of the young men under arms being taken by young women. At the close of the War most of these men returned from Overseas to their former employment and the necessity of finding places for them gave rise to the opening of many new branches. Business after a short pause at the close of the War resumed for a period with full vigor.

The post-War boom was over by 1921 and a number of Bank branches had to be closed. They had served some purpose but could not maintain themselves through business depression. Concluding his address to the shareholders in 1924 Mr. Peleg Howland, late President, said:

"This Bank will, in a few months, complete its half-century. It has progressed by the diligence and careful work of those associated in its management. It has not been backward in its pioneer work, as evidenced by its early reaching out into the great North-West and the mining districts of Ontario. I believe the Bank has given service to the community which has been for good, and that it will continue to do so."

The end of this ten-year period came during a severe depression. Nevertheless, over the figures of 1914 the assets of the Imperial Bank showed an increase of 47%. The staff increased by 255. While there was no increase in capital shares, the number of holders of shares increased by 684, indicating a wider distribution, and smaller individual holdings.

Know I Shall be Lonely

By Helen Wehmler

I KNOW I shall be lonely just at first,
Until your step grows fainter on the stair,
And I have learned to look without swift tears
Across the room at your dear, empty chair.
I shall not want to be alone, now you
Have said goodbye to me and gone so far.
I must be brave, and never call you back.
Nor think of you and wonder how you are.

I MUST forget—and that is hard to do,
For you are part of all I have become.
Yet I must walk as fearlessly as though
We still kept step to some high-singing drum.
But since the memory of all you were Stays in these rooms, I'll choose a strange, new place
To put my books, my cups, in ordered rows
Beyond the ghost of your remembered face.

SOMEONE else will bring small treasures here,
Take up new threads of life, love, hope, joy, pain.
Dream by the fire, and maybe say goodnight,
Be comforted with shelter from dark rain.
And should you ever seek me down the years
Whoever hears your knock will have to say
That I have packed my trophies long ago,
Turned in the key, dear heart, and gone away.

LEGAL HITCH HITS BY-LAW

Oak Bay Cannot Licence Oil Burners, Solicitors State

In its plans to license owners of oil burners, the Oak Bay Council yesterday struck a legal snag which caused a temporary halt in the passing of the by-law and may prove the council has no power to license the burners.

The by-law, which was being given preliminary readings, was referred to the municipal solicitors, who gave their opinion as being the council had no right to collect licenses for oil burners under the Municipal Act. Section 54 of the act gives the council power to license "gas pipes, and fittings, plumbing, electrical wiring, sewers, drains, tents, signs, gasoline tanks and pumps and all similar work and things and buildings and structures of the kind, description or value specified in the by-law."

"In this clause it is apparent oil-burning equipment is not mentioned and it is necessary to look to the general words to see if they are wide enough to give the necessary authority," the solicitors stated.

The question was referred to a committee of the whole council. It was proposed to charge $3 and $2 fees for furnace and range burners respectively.

WOULD REFORM CURRICULUM

Alberta Schools Supervisor Advocates Matriculation Course Changes

Toronto, Nov. 9.—The day of the single track curriculum, even for the smaller Canadian secondary schools has passed. G. Fred McNally, supervisor of Alberta schools, told the Canadian Education Association here. Advancing matriculation curriculum reform, Mr. McNally declared salvation for the secondary school plan lay along the line of restricting application of traditional courses to a comparatively small number of academically-minded students.

Other courses should be made up in the best interests of the students who have neither the attitude nor the desire for advanced study.

"Our greatest need in secondary education at the moment," he said, is some method of convincing pupils and parents alike that the traditional matriculation course is the best course for a very small group of the secondary pupils only.

Modernization of history teaching in schools was also advocated by Mr. McNally. Schools, he declared, were "falling down" because they failed to interest pupils and because of the pupils' limitations to grasp material presented.

The trouble with teaching history rested in the kind of history being taught, he continued. He told the association of a class in Calgary where pupils asked the history teacher so many questions about current events, including international affairs, that the teacher finally decided to establish an evening class for such questions. The pupils came to the class voluntarily twice a month and the average attendance was seventy-five, he said.

Holds His Own Sweepstake Now

Former Victim Still Pays Out When Approached by Ticket Sellers; But Money Goes to His Own Bank

The worm has turned.

For over a decade one of the popular members of the City Hall staff has been one of Victoria's chief victims of sweepstakes and tombolas. Like thousands of others, he has conscientiously bought tickets on this and tickets on that and has derived some satisfaction from knowing his contribution has been making somebody happy.

Now when he is approached by vendors, he carefully inquires the price. Informed, he takes the money from his pocket and without more ado places it in a little tin box in his desk. "And that's another quarter for me," he chuckles.

Two or three days before Christmas he will hold a ceremonious draw for himself alone. He is bound to win, and the money, which in other years has gone to help someone else enjoy the festive season, will go to purchase a bottle of Christmas cheer and turkey.

Selfish?
No, not when one has contributed as he has for so many years.

Chicken Blood Test Proposed

Poultrymen to Discuss Federal Plan; B.C. Minister Suggests Alternative

Hon. K. C. MacDonald, Minister of Agriculture, will attend a meeting of British Columbia poultrymen in Vancouver Saturday morning for a discussion of plans of the federal Department of Agriculture to prohibit hatching eggs or chicks being shipped from British Columbia to other provinces unless all commercial flocks are blood tested.

R. W. Zavitz, an expert from the Ottawa department, is now on the coast and will explain the proposal to the poultrymen.

Dr. MacDonald said he feared the general application of the test might impose a heavy burden of cost on the poultrymen. As an alternative he suggests the test apply only to those flocks from which shipments are made to the other provinces.

SPRITLY STEELMEN SKIP INTO ART SPOTLIGHT

Flying through the air with the greatest of ease (without any need for a flying trapeze) these shorts-clad men are the newest sensation of the art world. Peter Blume, Russian-American, painted them and won first prize (and $1,500) in the thirty-second international exhibition at Pittsburgh. Few, even among trained critics, have been bold enough to guess what the picture means, though Blume hints it portrays his impressions during an auto trip south from Scranton, Pa. The cavernous mine shafts, the bleak street, and the armor-plate battleship mast form a grim background for the white-clad leaping figures. It is all very impressionistic, or abstract, or surrealist, or something, say art critics.

An emergency council meeting of the British Columbia Optometric Association was called recently to discuss the matter of state health insurance. The meeting unanimously upheld the question, and instructed the legislative committee of the association in Victoria to so advise the provincial secretary. The association, covering all parts of British Columbia, continually avows its weight and assistance toward any measure which public health may be improved.

The Victoria Short Wave Club will hold their annual meeting to-morrow evening at 1224 Johnson Street, where W. F. Wilson will be host. Officers for the year 1934-35 will be elected at this meeting.

NICOLA MINES INVESTIGATED

Attorney-General Launches Inquiry Into Company Under Securities Act

It was announced from the Attorney-General's Department this morning that an investigation under the Securities Prevention Act has been started into the operations of the Nicola Mines Metals Limited. The books of the company are under seizure for use in the inquiry it is understood.

John A. Russell, well-known Vancouver lawyer, has been retained by the attorney-general to carry on the investigation and will go thoroughly into the affairs of the company.

This is the second inquiry under the act within recent months into a British Columbia mining company. The other is that of Wayside Mines which has been held up under injunction proceedings.

Programme at Gorge Church

WE BRING "SUMMER" BACK TODAY

To motorists who find they have to use the choke more and more, here's good news. Thermalized Super-SHELL is here!

Forget cool weather engine troubles, excessive choking and extravagant waste of gasoline.

With Thermalized Super-SHELL you need to use the choke only half as long as with ordinary gasolines.

And instead of the usual jerky, sputtering get-away, you notice a summer-like flow of smooth power. A gasoline that's Thermalized doesn't worry about an engine's temperature. It delivers full power long before a motor reaches the warmed-up stage.

That means faster starts. Far better mileage. You can save as much as a cupful of gasoline every time you start with a cold motor.

It means quicker pick-up, surprising power—a summer-time performance this month, next, and the month after.

Today at all Shell stations—and only at Shell. The Thermalizing process, which makes gasoline far more concentrated and specially adapts it to all prevailing local temperatures, is exclusively a Shell method.

Miss Burton has been engaged in physical education work for the government and the Y.W.C.A. in Bengal for the last three years, and she reviewed the various innovations introduced by the "Y" for the benefit of the Indian girls.

Physical training and folk dancing classes, cooking demonstrations, social affairs under the Blue Triangle Girls' Club, commercial courses, swimming and even tap dancing, which has been only recently introduced into India, were being taken up with avidity by the girls. Swimming was another activity which had been introduced with much difficulty, owing to the reluctance of the authorities to permit the girls to use the swimming pool.

Convention was one of the biggest handicaps to the independence of the women of India, Miss Burton noted, the men being opposed to the education of their daughters. But such gatherings as the All-India Women's Conference, at which 600 delegates discussed such subjects as hobbies, mothercraft, social service and hygiene, were indications of the gradual awakening. She spoke enthusiastically of the beauty and charm of the women of Bengal.

Concerning self-government for India, the speaker expressed the opinion that there was a general feeling of dependence upon Great Britain, despite the efforts of those who would force a change of policy.

Miss Norma Macdonald, convenor of the affair for the membership committee, tendered the thanks of the gathering to Miss Burton for her enlightening address. The vote of thanks was supplemented with a charming corsage bouquet for the guest-speaker.

In an inspection of the interesting collection of Indian souvenirs displayed by Miss Burton, tea was served in the reception hall, the table, centred with bronze chrysantheums, being presided over by Mrs. P. B. Gregory and Miss Renny. Those assisting were Mrs. G. H. Bissell, Mrs. G. F. Barle, Mrs. R. H. Green, Mrs. Cook, Mrs. R. Felton, Mrs. J. T. Jones and Miss Helen Forman, others of the membership committee assisting with serving.

On Monday afternoon, November 12, the Women's Canadian Club will meet at the Empress Hotel to hear an address on "Canada's Last Frontier." The speaker will be Richard Finnie, P.R.G.S., who will show a series of fascinating pictures of the Arctic, particularly in the Mackenzie River basin. The meeting is to be held at 2.45 o'clock.

Mrs. Curtis Sampson, provincial president of the I.O.D.E., who is leaving on Sunday for a holiday in England, was entertained to tea by the residents provincial executive at the home of Mrs. Walter Nichol, Rockland Avenue, this afternoon when, in the unavoidable absence of the first vice-regent, Mrs. A. P. Griffiths, the presentation of a small memento of appreciation and good wishes was made by Mrs. L. A. Genge, on behalf of the members present. Those attending, in addition to the guest of honor, were Mrs. L. A. Genge, Mrs. Tyrwhitt-Drake, Mrs. Walter C. Nichol, Mrs. P. E. Corby, Miss Ilse Terry, Mrs. A. B. Cooke, Mrs. W. H. Cooke, Mrs. W. H. Belson, Mrs. J. Gordon Smith, Mrs. David Miller and Miss Josephine Crease. The reception rooms and tea table were artistically arranged with flowers.

Many Victoria friends joined in the host of congratulations and good wishes which were tendered yesterday to Rev. Robert and Mrs. Wilkinson who celebrated their golden wedding at a happy gathering at the home of their daughter, Mrs. T. B. Stark, 8661 Beechwood Avenue, Vancouver, on November 8, 1884. Robert Wilkinson and Annie McLaughlin were married at Cockermouth, Cumberland, by Rev. Thomas Arrowsmith, Western minister. In 1889 Mr. and Mrs. Wilkinson came to British Columbia and settled in Nanaimo. Mr. Wilkinson had been a lay preacher in England, and soon was interested in church work in the new country. In 1892 he was received into the Methodist ministry and met with much success in his work, being ably assisted by Mrs. Wilkinson. Among Mrs. Wilkinson's many pastorates were those of Wilfrid Road and Belmont, Victoria Churches in this city. The family consists of three sons, William of Nanaimo; Robert and Thomas, both in the United States; and three daughters, Mrs. Stark, Vancouver; Mrs. F. H. Stevens, Vancouver; and Mrs. H. J. Hocking, wife of Dr. Hocking, Prince George. Another son, Jack, came back from overseas wounded and gassed and died in Victoria, six weeks after his return.

It family trees are any help in the Hollywood climb, these Atlanta, Ga., twin debutantes should go high and far. Margot and Mary Sage are in the film capital, determined to crash the pictures. They are daughters of Ira Sage III, construction firm head; granddaughters of the Southern Pacific railroad builder; granddaughters of Russell Sage, financial power of the 90s in the United States, and great-granddaughters of Eli Yale, founder of Yale University.

Progressive Movement Among Bengal Women

Miss Margaret F. Burton of Calcutta Tells Y.W.C.A. of Work in India; Physical Training Popular Innovation

That there is evidence of a slow but sure movement towards greater independence on the part of the women of India, of which the All-India Women's Conference this year was an indication, was one of the many interesting points brought out by Miss Margaret F. Burton of Calcutta, India, in her address at the Y.W.C.A. yesterday afternoon.

The occasion was the reception and tea held in her honor by the membership committee, and attended by a large number of interested members and friends of the institution. Miss Burton, who was introduced by Mrs. Roy Angus, the president, spoke on the subject of "Women of Bengal," and wore a native dress, a very beautiful rose and gold sari and silver ornaments.

Miss Burton has been engaged in physical education work for the government and the Y.W.C.A. in Bengal for the last three years, and she reviewed the various innovations introduced by the "Y" for the benefit of the Indian girls.

Physical training and folk dancing classes, cooking demonstrations, social affairs under the Blue Triangle Girls' Club, commercial courses, swimming and even tap dancing, which has been only recently introduced into India, were being taken up with avidity by the girls. Swimming was another activity which had been introduced with much difficulty, owing to the reluctance of the authorities to permit the girls to use the swimming pool.

Convention was one of the biggest handicaps to the independence of the women of India, Miss Burton noted, the men being opposed to the education of their daughters. But such gatherings as the All-India Women's Conference, at which 600 delegates discussed such subjects as hobbies, mothercraft, social service and hygiene, were indications of the gradual awakening. She spoke enthusiastically of the beauty and charm of the women of Bengal.

Concerning self-government for India, the speaker expressed the opinion that there was a general feeling of dependence upon Great Britain, despite the efforts of those who would force a change of policy.

In an inspection of the interesting collection of Indian souvenirs displayed by Miss Burton, tea was served in the reception hall, the table, centred with bronze chrysantheums, being presided over by Mrs. P. Progressive Movement Among Bengal Women

That there is evidence of a slow but sure movement towards greater independence on the part of the women of India, of which the All-India Women's Conference this year was an indication, was one of the many interesting points brought out by Miss Margaret F. Burton of Calcutta, India, in her address at the Y.W.C.A. yesterday afternoon.

The occasion was the reception and tea held in her honor by the membership committee, and attended by a large number of interested members and friends of the institution. Miss Burton, who was introduced by Mrs. Roy Angus, the president, spoke on the subject of "Women of Bengal," and wore a native dress, a very beautiful rose and gold sari and silver ornaments.

Miss Burton has been engaged in physical education work for the government and the Y.W.C.A. in Bengal for the last three years, and she reviewed the various innovations introduced by the "Y" for the benefit of the Indian girls.

Physical training and folk dancing classes, cooking demonstrations, social affairs under the Blue Triangle Girls' Club, commercial courses, swimming and even tap dancing, which has been only recently introduced into India, were being taken up with avidity by the girls. Swimming was another activity which had been introduced with much difficulty, owing to the reluctance of the authorities to permit the girls to use the swimming pool.

Convention was one of the biggest handicaps to the independence of the women of India, Miss Burton noted, the men being opposed to the education of their daughters. But such gatherings as the All-India Women's Conference, at which 600 delegates discussed such subjects as hobbies, mothercraft, social service and hygiene, were indications of the gradual awakening. She spoke enthusiastically of the beauty and charm of the women of Bengal.

Concerning self-government for India, the speaker expressed the opinion that there was a general feeling of dependence upon Great Britain, despite the efforts of those who would force a change of policy.

YOUTH OF U.S. GIVES VIEWS

Exchange Opinions on Jobs, Marriage, Etc., With Older Leaders

Canadian Press
New York, Nov. 9.—A world in which they find new jobs, little hope of early marriage, and small support for their ideals was described by eighteen young men and women from settlements, schools and welfare organizations at a "Youth To-day" conference.

The testimony of the young witnesses was summarized at a dinner by Professor Harry Allen Overstreet, head of the department of philosophy of the college of the City of New York; Newton D. Baker, chairman of the 1934 Mobilization for Human Needs, under whose auspices the conference was held; Dr. Daniel A. Poling, president of the International Society of Christian Endeavor; and Miss Ida Tarbell, chairman of the dinner.

MRS. ROOSEVELT'S QUESTIONS
Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt was president, and asked several questions. One young man said marriage should be subordinated, as in Germany. Mrs. Roosevelt suggested that in Germany the reason for subsidizing marriage was to have more soldiers, not primarily to make the worker's lot easier. Then she asked another question. "Have you ever thought what it would cost in taxes to give all these youngsters you are asking? I'm not saying I am against them. I merely call your attention to the fact that some one would have to pay for them in taxes." Both Mrs.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

SAUCE FOR ONE PUDDING ISN'T SAUCE FOR ALL PUDDINGS

By MARY E. DAGUE
What is sauce for the pudding varies so greatly according to the pudding itself that I can't help feeling the beginning of the hot desert season to be an appropriate time for a piece on the whole subject.
The mission of sauce is to enhance and supply any lack in the pudding. It follows, then, that a baked pudding with a tendency to dryness should be served with a liquid garish. Standard cream is an excellent liquid sauce of moderate richness that is suitable for puddings of pronounced flavor. Cooked sauces thickened with eggs supply food value, and are usually served with chilled desserts.

Your Baby and Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

PROTECT CHILD FROM PERILS—AND TEACH SELF-PROTECTION
Because a child lives in a world full of perils to life and limb it is essential that until he can be trusted to care for himself, he must have adequate protection.

Education in caution does not consist merely of harping constantly on what one must not do—or thus and so will happen. A child soon turns deaf ears to repeated ominous warnings—or else, if he believes in them, he becomes an ardent coward. Neither result is desirable.

WHAT IS EDUCATION?
Education consists in showing the child how to set in all the various situations which offer potential hazards to him. He cannot be convinced that he must never cross the street, because children and adults are constantly crossing streets, and every child knows it. His most sincere promise not to do so would be worth less than nothing.

He must be watched when he is too young to be trusted on the street. Each time he does get out, with adults, he must be shown how to look in both directions before entering the street. That should be an inviolable rule.

TRAGEDY IS ALWAYS WAITING
Every household possesses the makings of potential tragedy, such as boiling water in open kettles, poisonous drugs, steep steps, hot stoves, gas flames, boxes of matches. One could not begin to warn the child of all the dangers inherent in these everyday possessions, he could not live or breathe if he suffered real fear of their dangers. The leaflet, "Commonplace Fears of Childhood," indicates the fears which may arise from too many warnings of danger.

This leaflet is available for a self-addressed, stamped envelope, sent with a request for it to Myrtle Meyer Eldred, care of the "Your Baby and Mine" department of this newspaper.

TEACH CHILD TO AVOID DANGER
Every child should be taught how to light gas stoves at the age when the ceremony inspires his fascinated interest. He must be shown how to light matches, until he can do it with no danger to himself.

Accidents, of course, will happen. There seems no way to avoid all of them. But some accidents are attributable to lack of judgment, to lack of imagination, to sheer parental unwillingness to assume responsibility for the child's safety.

Mothers that endeavor to make fear their handmaiden put on the child's shoulders their burden of keeping him safe. There is only one policy that is safe and that is constantly to teach a child how to safeguard himself and meanwhile, until he learns, keep a watchful eye upon him.
The pulse of a new-born infant is from 130 to 140 beats a minute; in adults it is 70 to 75.

YOU'LL KNOW WHY ST. CHARLES EVAPORATED MILK IS BETTER

TRY THIS: Open a can of St. Charles Milk. Note the creamy color—the smooth consistency—the pure fresh flavor.

TRY THIS: Have a cup of coffee "creamed" with St. Charles Milk. That blends so smoothly, tastes rich and fresh.

TRY THIS: Make mash of potatoes with St. Charles Milk. That pure fresh flavor gives ed potatoes with St. Charles Milk. That pure fresh flavor gives ed potatoes with St. Charles Milk. That pure fresh flavor gives ed potatoes with St. Charles Milk.

And saves you money. greater deliciousness.

Why is St. Charles Evaporated Milk different . . . better? The reason begins way back on the farm where it comes from! Cows, barns, milkers, equipment are carefully inspected. And when the milk arrives at the spotless Borden plants, tests are made for flavor, purity, richness and body—the most rigid tests ever evolved in the industry.

That's why—for your coffee, or your cooking, it pays to insist on St. Charles.

It's Better—And you can prove it.

"FRESH FROM THE GARDENS"

The Clue of The Forgotten Murder

By CARLETON KENDRICK
Copyright, 1934, N.E.A. Service Inc.

"I don't know any Blanche Malone," she said. "My name is Blanche Stanway. Tell me what you want."

"You," Racine said to Griff in a voice that quivered with rage, "can wait in the corridor until we get some talking. This is none of your damn business."

Griff smiled serenely.

"Racine," he said, "you are a man who knows the law. Perhaps you also know the penalty of compounding a felony."

Mrs. Cathay surveyed the men with tired eyes, eyes which seemed hopelessly weary of it all, from which hope had vanished. There remained only the grim tenacity of a fighting breed.

Carl Racine moved ominously forward.

"I'm telling you fellows," he said, "to get out. This is a private conference."

Dan Bleeker, thirty pounds lighter than the big detective, and ten years older, pushed aggressively forward.

"Try and put us out," he snapped. Sidney Griff spoke in tones that were calmly suave.

"It happens," he said, "that Mr. Bleeker represents the blade. It also happens that the blade is interested in this interview, as doubtless the police will be."

Racine glowered at Bleeker, his manner truculent, but his eyes suddenly shifted to those of the criminologist as Griff finished speaking.

Mrs. Cathay, white-lipped, her nostrils dilated, regarded Griff with eyes that were dark with emotion.

"I presume," she said, "you want me to beg and cringe. I won't do it."

"How," asked Racine, "did you find out about this?"

Griff smiled at him.

"How did you find out about it?" he countered.

Mrs. Cathay whirled to the hard-faced woman who sat in the chair, regarding them with glittering appraisal.

"If you talk," she said, "you're not going to yourself any good."

Griff swung to her instantly.

"If you don't talk," he said, "you're going to put yourself in a very questionable position."

The woman laughed. Her laugh was harsh, rasping and discordant.

"My, my," she said, "how important I seem to be getting all of a sudden! Well, I'm not going to talk—not because she told me not to, and the woman spat out the feminine pronoun with a bitter, scornful emphasis. "But because I'm going to get a lawyer to do my talking for me."

"Who," asked Griff, "is your lawyer?"

"I don't know," she said. "I'm going to get one."

"The police," said Griff, "may want to know something about this."

"The police," she retorted calmly, "can keep on wanting."

"I'm going to ask you just once more," Mrs. Cathay said, "to consider my position."

The woman's eyes swept Mrs. Cathay in hostile appraisal.

"You went to a lot of trouble to find me, didn't you?" she said. "Just because you thought I could do you some good. How about the long years before? You didn't take any trouble to find me then. You didn't care what I was doing. If you want to know, I was scrubbing floors in office buildings. Think of that! Down on my hands and knees. Crawling around, scrubbing floors, cleaning spittoons, my hands in dirty soap suds, scrubbing, scrubbing! Always scrubbing. While you were powdered and perfumed, painted and manicured, riding around with a chauffeur in a shiny automobile, reclining on soft cushions, having maids to do your hair and keep your face beautiful."

"She broke off abruptly and once more gave that harsh, scornful laugh. "I will say this," she said, "the world has handed me enough knocks. I know enough now to look out for myself and I'm going to look out for myself."

Afraid to Eat INDIGESTION Now Overcome

Are you, as Mr. F. G. Dartford, England, used to be, afraid to eat for fear of the certain distress that follows? Then do what Mr. G. did. Take Maclean Brand Stomach Powder. Maclean Brand is highly effective in relieving the pain and distress of indigestion, gastritis, flatulence, dyspepsia, acid stomach and even severe stomach disorders. It is made according to the formula developed by the Head Stomach Specialist of a famous London, England, Hospital. Mr. G. writes that "I felt the benefit from the first bottle of Macleans. That is some months ago; now the pains have left me and I enjoy my food."

Maclean Brand Stomach Powder is widely used in English hospitals. It will bring you the relief you have been looking for. Ask your druggist. But be sure to get the genuine, bearing the signature, "Alex. C. Maclean." 75c. Also in tablets—also in lozenges—Distributors, Rigo Agencies, Toronto.

Gyro Club To Handle Hamper Distribution

Service Club Will Supply Christmas Boxes to Needy This Year; Will Take Over Work of Friendly Help Association

Distribution of Christmas hampers, formerly undertaken by the Christmas hamper fund of the Friendly Help Welfare Association, this year will be handled by the Gyro Club, according to announcement made by club officials this morning.

With the co-operation of welfare organizations of the city, the club has arranged to make an organized appeal by which they hope to raise sufficient foodstuffs for 1,500 hampers and $3,000. At a meeting of the Central Exchange yesterday, club representatives completed arrangements for having the hamper list of that organization added to the one they have compiled, in order that there will be no duplication in the distribution.

A committee, with Gyro Percy A. Moir as chairman, has the plans in hand and is working earnestly to assure a well organized system for assisting those in need.

Mr. Moir and Harold L. Butcher, secretary of the Gyro Club, attended the exchange meeting yesterday and explained the plans of the club. There was no desire to clash in any manner with other work of the exchange or other welfare organizations, they stated, the club's activities being definitely confined to Christmas hamper work.

SINGLE DISTRIBUTION
This work was handled last year by a committee headed by Mrs. J. D. Galloway. It is generally considered more satisfactory to have one organization conduct the fund as it prevents overlapping.

In taking over this campaign, however, the Gyro Club explained its position clearly in regard to charity work carried out at Christmas by church and other welfare organizations. It is not intended that the two should conflict as the clubmen are only taking over the activities formerly in charge of the Friendly Help.

The Gyros will open a distribution centre in the business section shortly and a systematic plan of collection

COUNTRY FAIR AT ROYAL OAK

A successful country fair was held Tuesday afternoon and evening in the Royal Oak Hall, under the auspices of the Women's Institute. Norman Whittaker, M.P.P., opened the fair at 3 o'clock. The hall was decorated for the occasion and the various stalls were well patronized. The toy stall was in charge of Miss Gilroy, Mrs. Napier and Mrs. Miller; home cooking booth, Mrs. Reeves, Mrs. Monckton and Mrs. Coton; plant stall, Mrs. Hoole and Mrs. Hayward; white elephant booth, Mrs. Wilkinson, Mrs. Coffey and Mrs. Dunnet; apron and bag stall, Mrs. Nicholson, Mrs. Greive and Mrs. Barker; fancywork, Mrs. Langrish and Mrs. Braithwaite; and home-made candy, Misses Helen Rankin and Barbara Hoole. Among other attractions were fortune telling by Mrs. L. H. McQueen, a butterfly contest in charge of Mrs. H. J. Reed, Mrs. Carles and Mrs. Pettit conducted the orange tree dip and Miss Phillips and Miss Pettit supervised "house-houses." These were served by Miss Oldfield, Mrs. H. H. Reed and Mrs. A. Locke. Mrs. Allan Rankin was in receipt of custom.

In the evening Mrs. Hudson's concert party presented an enjoyable entertainment, with the following taking part: Reg. Stoffer, Mrs. Crowther, Jennie Hudson, Al Anderson, J. Hudson, Mr. Harkness, E. Grant, W. Oatley and D. Galey. Robert Taylor acted as accompanist. Raffles were won by Mrs. Coffey and Mrs. Carles and tomato prizes went to Mrs. E. Reed, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Gilroy, Mrs. J. Reid, Mrs. Nicholson, Mrs. May and Royal Nicholson, Mrs. May and Roy Duval. Persons holding numbers 309 and 279 may claim their prizes at the Royal Oak Grocery.

At a special meeting of the Royal Oak Institute, called to make final arrangements for the fair, Mrs. Reeves reported that a series of talks over CFOT radio station will be heard on Saturday at 7.15 p.m. Dancing classes are again being held every Saturday evening at 8 o'clock.

MISSION BOAT BEING BUILT

Shantymen's Craft for West Coast Expected to Be Ready Next Spring

By next spring it is hoped the Shantymen's Christian Association will have completed construction of a thirty-five foot power-boat to be used in coast work, supervised by Percy Wills. It was announced at the annual meeting of the association in the Y.W.C.A. yesterday.

Reginald Huddleston, New Westminster boat builder, is donating his services to build the craft, with the association supplying the material. Mr. Huddleston told the meeting he hoped it would be ready by the spring.

Donations to the fund for the boat totalled $433.75 up to October 31, and there is now a credit of $326.48. During the meeting a review of the coast mission work was given by Mr. Wills.

The speaker of the day was Rev. Michael Billester, of the Russian Missionary Society, who dwelt upon the need for prayers in religion today.

An illustrated address on adventures on the Forbidden Plateau was given by Ronald Hodgson. Annual reports were submitted by

Suggests Ex-premier Come Before Jury

London, Nov. 8.—A suggestion that Mr. Lloyd George and H. G. Wells might be prosecuted for inciting to sedition was made to-day by Lord Marley.

During debate on the bill intended to strengthen provisions of the law against inciting members of armed forces to sedition, he said:

"I hope very much if somebody is going to be prosecuted at an early stage, the government will try its hand on Lloyd George and see what success it has. Similarly, there might be action against Wells."

He had reference to books by the two men discussing the conduct of the Great War.

Minor changes in the field staffs of the Department of Mines were confirmed by provincial order-in-council to-day. John Fleming replaces W. G. Crisp as deputy mining recorder at Dease Lake, Thomas A. Perry replaces George Edgar as deputy mining recorder at McDam Creek, and Duncan Miller replaces A. R. Hunter at Boundary.

The Oak Bay Council yesterday received a claim for $40.55 damages from Miss Yule George, as the result

What! Now a Soap That Soaks Clothes Whiter ... Safely?

It's True! At Last A "No Fade" Soap That Banishes All Risk In Modern "No Scrubbing, No Boiling" Methods

How New $1,000,000 Soap Discovery Takes The Last Of The Backache Out of Washing. Yet Works With Utter Safety to Colors, Fabrics, Hands

NOW, soak clothes clean and white without the slightest risk of fade or injury from harsh soap action. The makers of gentle Ivory give you this new and amazingly safe soap invention. A soap that, by comparison, makes old-time fast-washing soaps seem harsh, hard on colors, and unfit for hands. Yet a soap that soaks clothes snowy white without one bit of scrubbing or boiling!

Developed at the cost of $1,000,000, this new soap—OXYDOL—does these 3 things that you never found a soap could do before.

(1) Loosens dirt out in 15 minutes' soaking, without scrubbing or boiling. Thus cuts washing time 25% to 40% in tub or machine. (2) Gets clothes 4 to 5 shades whiter than other soaps by accurate Tintometer tests. Whiter in one washing than other soaps can do in 2 to 4 washings. (3) Works by a mild, gentle washing action that assures absolute safety to colors, fabrics, hands.

Each week new thousands are quitting their former favorites and switching to OXYDOL. Why go on risking precious clothes to harsh fast-washing soaps? Or wearing yourself out scrubbing and boiling with old-fashioned bars, chips, flakes? Save time, save money, save clothes with OXYDOL. Get OXYDOL from your grocer today. You'll be glad you did.

OXYDOL IS SUCH A RADICAL DISCOVERY THAT WE, AT FIRST, COULD SCARCELY BELIEVE IT OURSELVES.

The latest amazing discovery of the famous Procter & Gamble Laboratories, Oxydol foams up instantly and completely into thick 3-inch suds—even in the hardest water. Suds that go to work on grease, dirt, and stains 2 to 3 times faster than less modern soaps. Thus gives the whitest washing—in the fastest time—and with the utmost safety.

The FIVE STAR ★★★★★ Final in RADIO The new "DIAL OF PLEASURE" series by Northern Electric

Here is the last word in radio as we know it today... the only radio receiver with "cushioned", vibrationless reception... with Angle Tuning... with a selective full vision dial on which only one scale appears at one time. Here is a receiver which simplifies short wave reception as never before... the only receiver in which the change in aerial arrangement for standard and short wave is made automatically. See the nine amazingly beautiful sets today... console, mantel and table models—all wave and selective wave. Note their exclusive features. Listen to their gorgeous tone... then let your own good judgment decide.

* CUSHIONED RECEPTION — To ensure vibrationless reception, Northern Electric have cushioned the condenser gang and even the loud speaker itself, with live, resilient rubber.

* ANGLE TUNING — Because the instrument panel is set at a carefully determined angle, you can tune a Northern Electric easily standing or seated.

* AUTOMATIC AERIAL SWITCH — A different AERIAL arrangement is necessary for standard and short wave reception. Only in Northern Electric is this change automatic.

* SELECTIVE FULL VISION DIAL — No peering over the set is necessary with a Northern Electric receiver. The full scale is visible at a glance.

* ONLY ONE SCALE IN SIGHT AT ONE TIME — Contrast this with the confusion of ordinary receivers where as many as four scales are shown on the dial.

House of Lords Has Long Debate

London, Nov. 9.—Peers of the realm looked back to-day on a session of the House of Lords, believed to have been broken a record for length, standing since 1887.
The long session, occasioned as Labor peers staged a dogged assault on the Incident to Disaffection Bill sponsored by the government—lasted twelve hours. Adjournment was taken at 4:12 o'clock this morning.
Resting every line of the bill with its series of amendments, the handful of Labor peers delayed for another sitting its consideration. It already has received second reading in the House of Lords.
The Laborites, backed by a few opposition Liberals, tossed every argument they could devise into the verbal contest while Viscount Hailham, Secretary for War, courteously replied to each one. So effective was the opposition blockade that at 3 a.m. only thirteen out of twenty-four amendments on the paper had been considered.

During the debate an assertion was made that there was a movement sometime ago to seize the British radio broadcasting headquarters in London and bring about a coup d'état similar to that attempted in Austria when Chancellor Dollfus was assassinated.
This startling statement by Baron
Allen, a National Socialist supporter of the government, stirred his fellow peers only slightly, but his remarks later were played up sensationally by some newspapers.
Lord Allen said later the projected coup was considered about a year ago, and did not pass the discussion stage. He refused to name the sponsors of the idea, but said they belonged to an organization prepared to employ unconstitutional methods to seize power.
The Incident to Disaffection
Bill, or anti-sedition measure as it is commonly called, already has been passed by the House of Commons.

"COUNTRY GIRL" OLD FAVORITE

Musical Comedy, to Be Pre- sented Here Next Week, Popular in London

"A Country Girl," Lionel Monckton's delightful musical comedy which will be presented by the Victoria Operatic Society at the Empire Theatre on November 15, 16 and 17, has been one of the most consistently successful of all English musical comedies.
From the day, more than a quarter of a century ago, when it was first produced in Daly's Theatre in London it has been always popular and has lost none of its charm with the passing of the years.
Victoria music lovers have expressed themselves as extremely pleased that they will be given an opportunity of seeing this old favorite next week. Its tunes are infectious, and those people who saw the opera many years ago have never forgotten such numbers as
"Try Again Johnnie," "Come Down to Devonshire," "Molly the Marchioness," "To the Little Girls," and
"Little Girl, Little Boy."

The roles of Nan and Barry in the local production are being taken by Doreen Wilson and Fraser Lister, the former making her debut to a Victorian audience in this type of work, and the latter one of the favorites
with local theatre-goers.
This opera has two scenes, the first showing a Devonshire landscape and the second the interior of the Ministry of Fine Arts in London
during a fancy dress ball.

of vengeful smoldering hate of the conquered nations. A smoldering spirit to be fanned again into the flame of war horror through the agency of the international armistice manufacturers, imperialist capital, and war-breeding financiers.
Deeply mindful as I am of the possibility of a dreadful recurrence of the catastrophes of war and with a knowledge of the fact that Armistice Day will be used as an occasion by reactionary circles to glorify and celebrate the war, we are taking this occasion to urge all organizations and responsible citizens opposed to war, to lead their efforts to the war protest committee in their great educational task of exposing the real stupidity and futility of war.
To this end we extend in behalf of the war protest committee an invitation to attend a huge anti-war mass meeting in the Chamber of Commerce Auditorium at 8:15 p.m.
Monday, November 12.

A CHARMING PERSONALITY
To the Editor:—It is invariably a source of amusement to see the enthusiasm people inadvertently display which declares them to be the possessors of the superiority complex.
The mere fact of being self-conscious on this point implies a certain superior position such as "I am superior which at once denotes a certain inferiority complex. It has been said by Havelock Ellis that "Superiority tends to be associated with an inferiority complex." It is the erroneous attitude with which these complexes are usually regarded that we wish to discuss.

Laboring under this false conception we find those who are bombastic and overbearing. At least we have observed that this is a popular view of that which goes to make up the superiority complex and that those people who self-consciously suppose they possess it are often of the aforesaid type. Adopting an artificial attitude does not make one superior and it is clear that those who go about supposing themselves to be superior are not so but are struggling with a definite inferiority complex.
In our endeavor to sift this subject further we quote the following from the pen of R. L. Stevenson:
"Of all unfortunates there is one creature (for I will not call him man) conspicuous in misfortune. This is he who has forfeited his birthright of expression, who has cultivated artificial intentions, who has taught his face tricks like a pet monkey, and on every side perverted or cut off his means of communication with his fellow men. The body is a house of many windows showing ourselves and crying on the passers-by to come and love us. But this fellow has fitted his windows with opaque glass, elegantly colored.

His home may be admired for its design, the crowd may pause before the stained windows, but meanwhile the poor proprietor must lie languishing within uncommunicated, unchangeably alone."
Man's vanity deceives the thought of being inferior, therefore the great rush to adopt the deplorable and supposedly superior attitude which has indicated the state of those who admit of an inferiority come nearer to possessing a true superiority complex, since, under the false appearances supplied by man's vanity, only the brave souls can admit of being so.

For the sake of our argument we would regard the "superiority complex" and "inferiority complex" as somewhat of misnomers. One might suggest for the former the word "positivity" and for the latter the word "negativity." The state of being rid of these complexes might be considered "neutral." Few indeed are the few who ever come near to attaining this desirable state, since it is one in which a person would be entirely free of prejudice. It is a state of freedom. However, when we do meet the happy person who has attained to some of this freedom, we are wont to say "a charming personality."

EPPIE MACPHEE

To the Editor:—Hallowe'en having come and gone, aftermath seemed to offer an opportunity to submit to your Scottish readers the accompanying verses from a manuscript found among my papers with others, apparently written in the late John Murray and the late John Murray and the unassigned. The identification of the author might be possible to some, especially to certain learned clerks who have written about the poet
Burns in your columns in the past, whose names are omitted here because of the risk of drawing invidious distinctions between the professions of law and letters in this province. One of my scholarly friends suggested that Burns might have written them, based upon internal evidence only. The verses are not in my editions of his works, and my acquaintance with his contemporaries is "faded to seek." But the poet, as I read from an ancient in the Nineteenth Century, often mitigated his native dialect without compuntion for the purposes of his art. My old friend, the late John Murray, Sooke, an Ayrshire man with a good knowledge of Scottish poetry, stoutly denied this. He would, no doubt, have recognized the local origin of the verses here following.

Eppe MacPhee
She stooped to put a stockin' tight
That didna need it;
Fitted her soule just right,
Myself I seen it.

She tried an astraughtened oot a knee,
Diana lent it;
What way she kent she blinkit at me,
That way she bent it.

Forbye she made a muckle moo,
The skilpit hlaue;
Then fit air whushtin' "Hee-baloo," Hame to her Minnie.

"WELL! WELL!"

To the Editor:—If you will pardon me for saying so, I think you are that my critical friend is trying to tie the "Youth Movement" to somebody's apron strings is very evident.
There are a few more people with the same laudable intention. However, my experience among young people in this country has shown me that when they organize a "youth movement" and proceed with the business of a youth movement, there are a lot of disappointed people who find that we do not stampede easily. Forget it!
We have a great deal of respect for an organization as courageous as the C.C.P., but we are not the C.C.P., nor the Grigs, nor the Tories, nor any similar organization. We are a youth council and we don't care who knows it.
Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for space to reply to our critics.

THE SCREEN

GRACE MOORE AT DOMINION

Metropolitan Opera Singer
Sings Leading Role in "One Night of Love"

A new thrill in screen entertainment awaits motion picture audiences who will see Columbia's "One Night of Love," starring the gorgeous, glamorous, golden-voiced Grace Moore, which opened to-day, at the Dominion Theatre for a three-day engagement.

Miss Moore, known in every city in the world where she has appeared on the operatic and the concert stage, achieves the glorious heights of screen stardom as a result of her magnificent portrayal in this Columbia extravaganza.

Her role is that of a young, midwestern girl who goes to Italy to study for an operatic career with the prime money she has won in a radio audition contest. There she meets a romantic, debonaire music teacher, splendidly interpreted by Tullio Car-minati, international stage and screen star, who immediately offers to develop her for the Metropolitan in New York. But with one reservation, that their association remain uninterrupted by even the slightest suggestion of a love affair.

In addition to Miss Moore and Tullio Carminati, the film boasts an imposing cast that includes Lyle Talbot, Mona Barrie, Nydia Westman, Andres de Segurola, Luis Alberni and Jessie Ralph. Victor Schertzinger, who directed, also composed the title song.
The story is from the pens of Charles Behan and Dorothy Spears. S. K.
Lauren, James Gow and Edmund
North collaborated on the screen play.

COLUMBIA THEATRE

Walter Connolly, one of the greatest figures on the American stage, and fast assuming a similar role in the realm of the cinema, is falling heir to a strange reputation in Hollywood.
For a reason that is quite obvious, the noted actor is commonly believed outside of his intimate circle of friends, to be an octogenarian. And the reason for it is that in his last four pictures, Connolly has portrayed grey-headed, portly old gentlemen who have already achieved their three-score and ten.

In his latest picture, "Master of Men," starring Jack Holt, which is showing at the Columbia Theatre today, Connolly enacts the character of a genial old Wall Street financier.

PLAYHOUSE THEATRE

"Grand Canary," the fascinating best seller, by A. J. Cronin, is Warner Baxter's starring vehicle, now being shown at the Playhouse Theatre.
It is a truly magnificent love story, which gives Baxter one of his finest romantic roles.

The story opens with Baxter as an eminent young doctor and scientist boarding a ship for Canary Islands.
His career is apparently wrecked, and he believes he is sailing to oblivion.
On the same ship is Madge Evans, sailing from an unhappy marriage.
Although they are irresistibly drawn to one another, their sense of honor prevents them from admitting their love.

Gridders Stage Important Duels

Thrilling Big Four Race in Eastern Canada May Be Settled After Tomorrow's Battles; Montreal Meets Argos; Hamilton Tigers Play Ottawa

By ELMER DULMAGE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

One year ago at this time Toronto Argonauts were ambitious outsiders in one of the most thrilling Big Four football races in years. They played the last scheduled game at Montreal and they had to win to get into a first-place tie. Meanwhile Ottawa Rough Riders entertained Hamilton Tigers and had only to win to also tie for the lead.

Argos eventually came out on top of that scramble, beating Montreal to force a tie and then ousting the Wheelers in a two-game playoff series. The poor Rough Riders have been kicking themselves for twelve months because they bowed to Hamilton that day, losing a playoff berth.

That's how it was a year ago and it's just about the same layout for to-morrow. They've reached the last week of the schedule with Montreal leading Hamilton by a single point and the Tigers another single in front of Argos. Ottawa is out this time and the Bengals are in.

Montreal marches into Toronto, from all appearances the champions-to-be, just as in 1933.

An Argonaut victory would leave these two teams tied with seven points each. Then it would depend on the Tiger-Rough Rider game. A Hamilton victory and a Montreal defeat would leave the Bengals in complete possession of the spoils.

But then the Rough Riders have black intentions, dating back from the day a year ago when their own title aspirations were clawed and ripped asunder by these same Tigers.

Just as perhaps a better Ottawa team, just as this is a better Hamilton team. There is no one to say the Ottawas are not capable of stampeding the Bengals.

On their own behalf, Argos can only best Montreal and that won't be good enough if Ottawa fails in its mission at Hamilton, an Argos win and a tie between Ottawa and Hamilton would leave three contenders dead-locked.

It's a thrilling climax that probably will attract 17,000 or more spectators to the Wheeler-Seidler duel and perhaps 10,000 to the "grudge" struggle between Tigers and Rough Riders. Montreal will start slightly favored to end it all with a victory and Hamilton will likewise be slight favorites over Ottawa.

Intercollegiate and O.R.U. schedules end quietly with Sarnia Imperials playing Balmy Beach in Uster Stadium, Toronto; Hamilton Cubs performing against St. Michael's College at Maple Leaf Stadium, Toronto; University of Toronto visiting McGill and Queen's invading London to play Western Mustangs.

Sarnia have already clinched the O.R.U. title with five straight victories and Toronto and Queen's cannot be dislodged from the top of the intercollegiate. They will play off for the title.

When Theodore Roosevelt went to Cuba to fight in the Spanish-American War he took twelve extra pairs of spectacles with him, knowing that he would be helpless should he break his eyeglasses in battle.

Charlie Devens Quits Baseball

Boston, Nov. 9.—Charles Devens, New York Yankee pitcher and former Harvard University baseball and football star, yesterday settled any and all rumors about his quitting baseball with the statement, "It's a fact, I am quitting professional ball." The Yankee pitcher is leaving baseball to embark on a career in banking and is soon to marry Edith Prescott Wolcott Milton.

MERALOMAS ARE READY

Vancouver Club in Tip-top Shape for Western Canada Grid Final With Regina

Vancouver, Nov. 9.—Coach "Hammy" Boucher yesterday evening put his Vancouver Meralomas through their final scrimmage before the orange and black gridgers meet Regina Rough Riders here to-morrow in the first of the two-game series for the western football title.

"The boys looked fine," Hammy grinned enthusiastically after the practice. "With Wm. Hammond back at snap and supplying the spark that puts football players on their toes, they should make the best series the Coast has ever seen. Whether we win or lose, we will be in there fighting until the final whistle."

Boucher has been drilling his squad in a defence against the highly-efficient aerial game which Rough Riders are reported to use. Lanky Joe Ross, Meralomas great punting halfback, may be called on to do Spartan duty if the Rough Riders solve the Coast's chief offensive threat, their end runs.

HOPES FOR EDGE
Boucher believes Ross can hold his own with the Regina punter, and with two fast-moving ends, Al and Ron Lowe, hopes to have an edge in the kicking department.

To-morrow night the 'Lomas will have a short chalk talk, their final preparation for their prairie opponents.

Regina, Nov. 9.—More confident than they have been in years, Regina Rough Riders to-day were Vancouver-bound. At the Coast city the eastern prairie sectional winners will engage Vancouver Meralomas, British Columbia titlists and conquerors of Alberta Varsity, in a two-game series for the senior rugby championship of the west. The first game will be played to-morrow, and the second on Monday.

Led by Greg Grassick, former McGill graduate and brilliant linebacker, eighteen huskies, the pick of a red and black squad that won through the season undefeated, seek their sixteenth title in twenty-three years of competition for the Hugo-Ross Trophy. A series of seven straight victories was broken last season when they bowed to Winnipeg.

HELEN JACOBS IN ENGLAND

United States Women's Tennis Champion Will Remain Until Next Summer

London, Nov. 9.—Helen Jacobs, Queen of United States tennis courts for the last three years, has settled down in a cosy Kensington flat here for the winter, to do a little writing and, perhaps, put a little extra polish on her game.

The writing comes first. Later, when the back injury she suffered in practice at Forest Hills has healed completely, she intends to take some lessons from Dan Maskell, coach of England's championship Davis Cup team, and might even take a jaunt down to South Africa to play in the championships at Capetown.

She will not, at any rate, return to the United States until after the Wimbledon championships next summer. She loves London, says Helen, and has come over with every intention of settling here.

Detroit Olympics Win Over Windsor

Detroit, Nov. 9.—In a fast, rough game, which kept about 600 spectators on their feet through three periods, Detroit Olympics yesterday evening opened the International Hockey League season here by defeating Windsor Bulldogs 3 to 1.

Detroit took the lead in the first period on goals by Ron Moffatt and Wilf Starr, Windsor. Starr scored on a pass from King. Windsor tallied in the second on a shot by Cain. In the final period, Modern "Mud" Bruinen, last year with Winnipeg Falcons, scored Detroit's last goal.

Both goalies played well, Earl Robertson having thirty-four stops and being brilliant when his teammates were off the ice.

Tomkins, for the Olympics, stopped twenty-seven shots.

Leading Arsenal To Meet Grimsby

Pacesetters in English First Division Football Expected to Have Hard Time With Promoted Club; Sunderland Will Oppose Manchester City

London, Nov. 9.—The champion Arsenal Club will have a struggle on its hands to-morrow endeavoring to stay on top of the first division of the English Football League.

To-morrow the Gunners go to Grimsby Town to meet the recruits from the second division, who have been making a gallant stand.

The leaders will be handicapped by the loss of Beasley, rightwinger, whose knee was badly cut a week ago, but the fishermen are in fine fettle.

Another feature match brings together Sunderland and Manchester City.

Only two points separate the first five teams. Stoke City, holding third place, travels to Leicester City, and it is possible the potters may again get into the top berth.

George Cansell, famous England international centre-forward, has recovered from a serious operation and will play for the first time this season against Middlesbrough against the Spurs.

In the second division Bolton Wanderers meet Fulham, and Manchester United engage Burnley.

Glasgow, Nov. 9.—St. Johnstone face a tough assignment to-morrow in their efforts to hang on to a slim lead over the first division of the Scottish Football League, the schedule calling for a visit to Aberdeen.

The Rangers, the champions, decided to leave Hamilton, for second place, pay a visit to Albion Rovers. Hamilton entertains Queen's Park.

King's Park, second division leader, is playing away at Morton and will have no easy task.

OUR MAIL BAG
RUGBY PLAY

To the Sports Editor: As a result of recent conversation and observation of the games this season, I find that there is some difference of opinion in the interpretation of the laws of rugby in the minds of spectators, players and referees.

No reason why spectators should know all the details of the laws, there is every reason why both players and referees should.

Some laws are either unknown or deliberately broken, while others are not having the logical inference applied in their interpretation.

Under the heading of those "unknown or deliberately broken" is the law dealing with obstruction (or interference), which is becoming very prevalent and at the same time difficult to deal with. Wing-forwards, or breaks, by very reason of their tactics, are the most consistent offenders.

For two-thirds of their play in attack is made up of "obstruction" whilst in defence they are equally guilty of obstruction. In every position on the side, running-across opponents in an effort to guard one of their own side who is attempting to gain return a kick made by the opposing side.

The law is quite clear in that it states in part, "A player who is not running for the ball must not charge or obstruct another player." The law is clear, but not wisely counterfeited by the referee.

Mrs. Sundquist, in giving evidence earlier in the day, denied she had performed the operation.

Poppy Campaign Appeals Heard

Governor-General, Premier
Bennett and Hon. M.
MacLaren Speak

Canadian Press
Ottawa, Nov. 8.—Poppy Day messages from the Governor-General, Prime Minister R. B. Bennett and Minister of Pensions Murray MacLaren were given out here yesterday evening.

The Governor-General's message follows in part:

"On Sunday next we shall commemorate the sixteenth anniversary of that first day of peace on which the Armistice brought to an end four tragic years of destruction and human slaughter. Throughout the whole of our great empire, each and every one of its members will stand in reverent silence, and pay homage to those gallant men who gave their lives, without question or fear, for that empire's preservation."

"As we pause for these two minutes, and pay united tribute to that glorious sacrifice, there is forged each year yet one more link in the ever-growing chain of comradeship which binds together the scattered units of our great community of nations, for it is on the recollection of common sorrows borne and common danger suffered that the truest sympathy is founded."

"On Remembrance Day, we are perhaps inclined to think only of those who laid down their lives. But there are others, both men and women, whose lot is perhaps even harder. They suffer still to-day; men who returned to their homes bereft of the means to earn their livelihood, maimed or physically broken; women and children left destitute. What more fitting tribute to the fallen can we pay than to help in the care of these their comrades and dependents?"

"Throughout Canada disabled ex-servicemen, otherwise known as 'Poppies,' are working in the manufacture of veteran poppies and wreaths, which are now being sold in every city, town and village throughout the Dominion. It is on your generosity in the purchase of these that the Canadian Legion depends for the furtherance of its great work."

"It is with the utmost confidence that I ask each one of you to-night to give the fullest possible measure of help to a cause so richly deserving and so sorely in need of your staunchest support."

PREMIER'S MESSAGE
Prime Minister Bennett said:

"I regard it as a high honor and a great privilege to add a few words to those so well spoken by His Excellency the Governor-General on the occasion of another Poppy Day."

"Sixteen years ago the Armistice brought to an end a world war such as mankind had never before known."

"The red Poppies have become a symbol of our fellow-Canadians who fell overseas. But it is a symbol of more. It is a symbol not only to salute the glorious dead with reverence and respect, but to discharge in a small way our obligation to the living. For them the war did not end in 1918, but has continued even unto this day."

"Therefore I would urge all my fellow-Canadians to buy the poppies that are offered for sale on Poppy Day."

"These poppies are provided under the auspices of the Canadian Legion of ex-servicemen, and I urge you once again to be generous in your purchases so that this Poppy Day may prove to be a real occasion of remembrance both of the living and the dead."

FAREWELL MESSAGE
Hon. Murray MacLaren closed his message on a note of farewell to the brotherhood of returned men. "Fare thee well, ad benedictus," his statement ended.

Big Increase In Trade Urged

B. Johnson, Victoria M.P.P., Addresses Vancouver Real Estate Exchange

Canadian Press
Vancouver, Nov. 8.—Western Canada cannot hope to prosper unless a definite change is made in the method of trade, Byron Johnson, M.P.P. for Victoria, declared in an address before the Vancouver Real Estate Exchange yesterday on the effect of tariff regulations on business in British Columbia.

Mr. Johnson said Confederation would not exist in the future if government representatives of western Canada continually have to go to Ottawa for "hand-outs" to keep going.

Much talk was heard these days of monetary reform, "but it is my firm belief that our problems can only be solved through trade," he said.

"Although the establishment of a national bank does not help British Columbia greatly, it does obtain a better hold on our credit, which is a good thing," he said.

"During this year 5,884 new automobiles were sold in this province. In the last five or six years we have not sold enough lumber to pay for the subsidy on the automobile industry alone in this province," he declared in dealing with British Columbia's trade position.

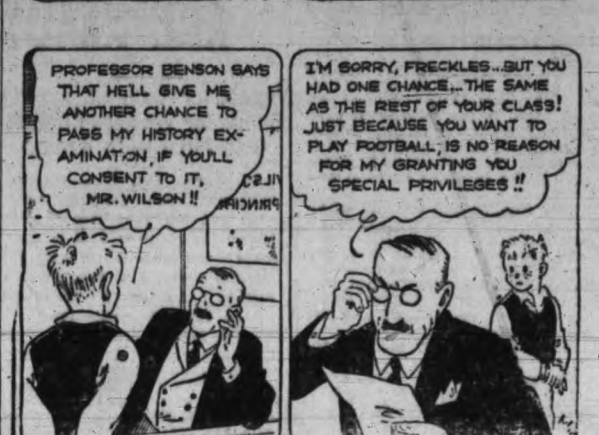

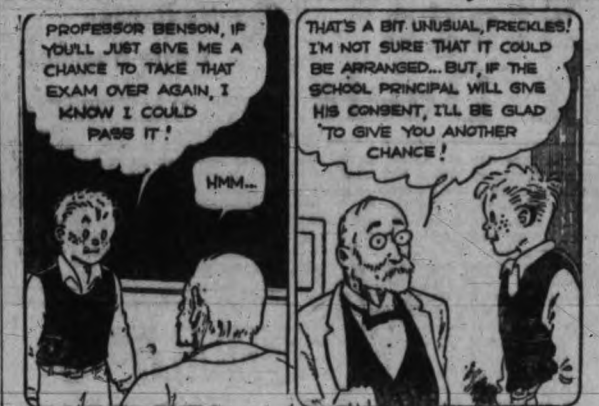

NEW WEALTH
"If our production is as Premier R. B. Bennett says it is, there must be something wrong if we can produce ten billion dollars' worth of new wealth in ten years and still find ourselves in our present condition."

Mr. Johnson said that, during a recent visit to England, he had asked a prominent London importer why more British Columbia apples were not sold in Great Britain. He said the man replied, "The truth is our experience with Canada is that we find it difficult to get a dollar's worth of goods into the country."

The Victoria member said he felt that when a country like Great Britain was buying nearly $18,000,000 worth of goods from Canada in eight months, Canada in return should buy from them.

"One of our greatest difficulties is the fact that we attempted to make our goods which we should have been trading for with our own products," he said.

Ottawa Ready to Act if Re-

Governments

Canadian Press
Ottawa, Nov. 8.—Action by the federal government to control export of newsprint, for the purpose of securing higher prices, will be taken if requested by the provincial governments concerned, Prime Minister R. B. Bennett said today.

Mr. Bennett and the majority of his cabinet members met four representatives of the industry for the purpose of talking over the situation. It was emphasized the delegates were not seeking any intervention and the whole industry was not represented, nor were there any representatives of the provincial governments present.

Those slain were Joel E. Lidquist, twenty-seven; his wife, Corina, twenty-six; and their two children, Syreille Ellen, two, and a twelve-day-old infant boy. The children were stabbed to death and the mother strangled, police said, by the father, who then hanged himself.

DENTISTS SAY, "GUMS Require Massage"

Use Ipana and massage to keep teeth clean, gums healthy—to combat "pink tooth brush."

Because the foods we eat today are soft foods, they fail to exercise our gums. Lacking work and stimulation, gums become flabby and tender—they show a tendency to bleed. Then one day there's a "pink" on your tooth brush. And, "pink tooth brush" can lead to serious trouble, gingivitis, Vincent's disease, or even pyorrhea.

To keep your gums firm and healthy, to combat "pink tooth brush," dentists stress the need for daily gum massage. Brush your teeth with Ipana Tooth Paste. After, massage a little extra Ipana into your gums. The sizzlet in Ipana, plus massage, aids in stimulating tender gums.

A month of this and you'll note that your gums are strong and healthy, teeth clean and sparkling. Keep it up and there will be no more fears of "pink tooth brush."

RUSSIA RAPIDLY BECOMING ONE OF MOST AIR-MINDED NATIONS

Soviet Russia is becoming air-minded to a fantastic degree and is rapidly overhauling the leaders in the aeronautical world. Although the Red Army air fleet is famous, the U.S.S.R.'s civil aircraft system compares favorably with the best in the world. Passenger, mail and freight sky routes now criss-cross vast areas of Russia and aviation schools are springing up by the score. Planes are bringing civilization to remote corners of the nation and are being used in farming, seeds often being planted from the air.

WALK OUT—WALK UP!

New Yorkers became acutely aware of the importance of vertical transportation as a result of a strike of elevator operators in crowded midtown skyscrapers a few days ago. Tenants were forced to climb hundreds of feet of stairs and traffic in the streets was tied up, as shown in the upper picture, when delivery trucks were unable to unload because elevators were not being operated. Below Sam Schiff (left) and Ben Silver give out with only two more flights of stairs to climb to their offices.

SIAM'S KING HAVING HIS TROUBLES

King Prajadhipok, who has been absent from his Siamese throne most of the last three years, spending his time receiving treatment for his ailing eyes in London, is having "king" trouble now. Rebellion previously cropped up in his realm, and a bloodless revolution in 1932 gave Siam a constitution for a brief period. At that time a coup by loyal government troops crushed the "liberals." Now it appears that the fragile monarch is having the last of his regal privileges shorn away during his absence. Prajadhipok offered to abdicate the throne in protest.

CHINA BUILDS $100,000 GOVERNMENT HOUSE

China's $100,000 Government House at Nanking will be ready for occupancy before Christmas, after two years' construction work—but the occupant is uncertain. It may be Lin Sen, China's president, or it may be Gen. Chiang Kai-shek, actual government head. The mansion, shown here, built in purely Chinese style, with yellow brick walls and blue glazed tile roof, stands on a high hill.
